Holmes County Girl Wounded As Family of Nine Sits At Dinner Table.

FIRED THROUGH DOOR

Sheriff Says Youth, 17, Admits Discharging Gun But Fails to Reveal Motive.

MILLERSBURG—A 17-year-old Amish farm youth, Emanuel Mast, was held in Holmes county jail today on an open charge while authorities investigated the shotgun wounding of his sister, Sara, 21 at the family home 11 miles northeast of here

The shooting, Holmes County Sheriff Harry R Weiss said, occurred yesterday while Mr. and Mrs. Levi S Mast and their seven children were eating their evening meal. Emanuel, he said, arose and left the room He returned several minutes later, pressed a shotgun against a screen door and fired.

The charge struck the girl in the left side of the face and neck, the sheriff said She is in serious condition in Pomerene Memorial hospital Attendants said it was doubtful whether she would recover.

Sheriff Weiss reported that the youth, taken into custody following preliminary investigation at the scene of the shooting, confessed four hours later that he had wounded his sister He would give no reason for the shooting, authorities said

The sheriff said he suspected the youth after discovering a discharged shotgun shell near the house. He said the boy and members of the family at first related that two unidentified men had called at the home and fled after the shooting.

The gun, Weiss reported, was discovered in the hayloft in the barn The youth told him, he said, that he had hidden it in the hay following the shooting.

Weiss said the youth would face charges of murder should his sister succumb from her wounds

Delay of Months Looming In Fire Pumper Purchase

Even if Mansfield is given a preferred priority rating for the new 750-gallon fire pumper it has ordered, it appeared doubtful today that the city would receive it until next October

Service-Safety Director Fred B. Wolff said today that a representative of the Seagrave company, Columbus, who signed a contract for the new pumper yesterday, had informed him that delivery could not be made until at least four or five months after a priority has been granted the city.

Mayor W. J. Locke, who supervised the awarding of the contract to the Seagrave company, said today that he had no idea of when the pumper could be delivered, stating that "we have no assurance as yet that it will be delivered at all."

Mayor Locke said that he had written a letter to War Production board officials informing them that a contract had been awarded and requesting a preferred priority rating.

The Associated Press in Washington informed The News-Journal today that the city would have to establish that the new pumper was needed urgently for fire pro-

Sugar Stamp No. 1 Becomes Void After Midnight.

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The office of price administration today reminded the American people that stamp No. 1 in war ration books may not be used by consumers in the purchase of sugar after midnight.

Until then, stamp No. 1 can be used to buy one pound of sugar. Thereafter the stamp will automatically become void and only stamp No. 2 will be valid.

U-Boat Sinks Vessel Near Mississippi

27 Killed In First U. S. 'Invasion' Since War of 1812.

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS—An enemy has brought warfare for the first time in 80 years to the lower Mississippi the historic battleground where the world's first ironclad warship appeared and where last a foreign invader trod United States soil

An Axis submarine which sneaked into the Gulf of Mexico torpedoed a large American cargo vessel a mile and a half off the mouth of the river, killing 27 seamen An explosion on a "jetty" or reinforced bank of the river itself was attributed to a stray torpedo—the first hostile projectile to strike the United States gulf coast since the Civil war.

The cargo vessel was the fifth attacked and the fourth sunk in the gulf by subs during the present war. The sinking, which occurred last Tuesday, was announced here yesterday by the Eighth naval district.

It was at the mouth of the Mississippi that the Confederate ram Manassas, the first ironclad fighting steamer, led a southern "mosquito fleet" that routed a Union squadron and temporarily ended the blockade of New Orleans late in 1861

It was on the banks of the Mississippi below New Orleans that Andrew Jackson and his army turned back the British in 1815, the last time a foreign foe ever fought on United States soil

The torpedoed vessel burned for six hours and sank in about 100 feet of water after members of the 41-man crew who were about to escape leaped over the vessel's windward side. All the survivors but one were seriously injured, many badly burned

"I knew I was a goner till I called on the Lord and he answered the prayer," declared Herbert Dann, 23-year-old seaman of the Dalles, Ore., who leaped overboard when "the smoke and flames parted and a way was cleared to the port side."

Dann credited Bert E. MacDowell of Lima, O., an oiler and one of the survivors, with saving the lives of two men, one of them Albert H. Simmons of Houston, Tex., second assistant

FREES BROWDER

FDR Commutes Sentence of Communist Party Leader.

WASHINGTON —(INS)— President Roosevelt today commuted the sentence of Earl Browder, Communist leader, serving a four-year term in Atlanta, and he will be released as soon as proper arrangements can be made Browder has served 14 months of his sentence. He was convicted last year of giving false information in obtaining a passport. The president noted the nature of the sentence imposed and termed it one that was "longer than the usual sentence" for such offenses.

Release of Browder, who shortly would have been eligible for parole "will have a tendency to promote national unity and allay any feeling which may exist in some minds that the unusually long sentence in Browder's case was by way of penalty imposed upon him because of his political views," a White House statement said.

Big Send-Off Crowd On Hand Today As More Leave For Army

Undismayed by the unseasonable chill, Mansfield turned out nearly 5,000 strong today to bid farewell and Godspeed to its second contingent of young men to leave this week for an Army induction center

North Main street in front of the Richland Trust building was packed at 7 30, and it remained packed until the three buses which carried the selectees drew away at 8 40 The group was made up of men from Draft Board 2 A delegation from Board 1 left on Wednesday of this week

Today was the eighth send-off since inauguration of the custom on March 24. The ninth will be staged Monday morning when a contingent from Board 3 will leave for induction.

Music was provided this morning by the Drum and Bugle Corps of McVey Post American Legion, under direction of Cecil Schill. This group responded promptly to a last-minute request by Earl Saltzgaber, chairman of the Richland Victory Civic Committee, when the organization reported last night that it had been unable to arrange for a band to play at the send-off. John Grabler, accordionist, also played and sang patriotic airs.

Saltzgaber today issued an appeal for bands of the county to volunteer their services for future send-offs

'The committee is highly gratified by the public's response to these send-offs" he said, "and we are particularly anxious to continue the practice of having a

Scores Smashing Victory In Oregon Confidence Vote.

PORTLAND, Ore —(INS—With a clear-cut vote of confidence in his wartime policies from Republican constituents Senator Charles L. McNary emerged today from Oregon's primary election with a smashing victory over his opponent, Arthur M Geary, Portland attorney

Returns, not yet complete, showed the senate minority leader ahead of Geary by 25,000 votes to again become Oregon's GOP candidate for the upper house.

Meanwhile, Governor Charles A. Sprague conceded defeat and bowed out to Secretary of State Earl Snell, his opponent on the Republican ticket. Early returns showed Snell with a comfortable margin which was expected to widen as ballots came in from outlying sections.

Japs Say Their Submarines Sink 65 Ships Since Dec. 7.

TOKYO—(Japanese Broadcast Recorded by UP at San Francisco) — Imperial headquarters said today that Japanese submarines had sunk 65 enemy vessels totaling 444,000 tons between Dec. 7 and May 10.

The announcement said 15 ships totaling 101,700 tons were sunk near Hawaiian waters; another 18 ships of 96,000 tons in the southwest Pacific, and 35 ships of 246,300 tons in the Indian ocean.

City and County Schools Miss Top Scholar Ratings

Mansfield and Richland county schools missed placing among the top-ranking schools of the state on the basis of recent state scholarship tests while Ashland and Loudonville schools won honorable mention, it was announced today by the state department of education.

Patricia A. Hieber, Mansfield senior, was among the top ranking senior girls who took the tests. She was tied with a Bellaire pupil for ninth place.

Outstanding seniors from city and county schools took the annual tests in April at Madison high school. More than 5,000 seniors participated in the state. Outstanding senior awards went to Glen R. Westenbarger of Wadsworth and Cleo Hindman of Stockport, Morgan county.

DRAFTEES GIVEN 14-DAY 'STAY'

Government Will Pay Expenses Home to Settle Personal Affairs, Army Says.

It's going to be easier after June 15 for army inductees in Richland county and throughout the nation to get their personal business in order before going to the army.

Selective service officials today announced a plan whereby registrants who pass their physical examinations at induction stations will be transferred to an enlisted reserve corps for 14 days and sent home at government expense to adjust their personal affairs before leaving for camp.

At the end of the 14-day period they would return to active service with the government again paying their transportation costs. Those who fail to pass at the induction center will return home soon after their examination as they do under the present plan.

The new system is designed to eliminate injustices complained of in the present arrangement of granting 10-day furloughs upon request In some instances such furloughs have been denied In many cases the inductees were unable to pay their transportation home, especially since the furloughs were given at reception centers instead of induction places closer to their homes

Draft headquarters also said the new plan would do away with embarrassing situations of men returning home for good, following farewell ceremonies, because of rejection on physical grounds Send-off parties for registrants en

Tells Convention to Nominate Candidate Having Country Foremost In Mind.

Taking himself out of the Democratic gubernatorial picture Author-Farmer Louis Bromfield last night warned the Democratic party to 'forget factional fights and selfish interests of a few and nominate men for state and national offices who have the good of the country foremost in their minds"

He warned the convention that the Democratic party had a strong man to beat, declaring that the party must have as a candidate a man who is as good or better than Gov. John Bricker and a good state issue which so far has not appeared.

Bromfield, who had been mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for governor, was the principal speaker on the "Mansfield Night" program at the spring conference of the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio More than 300 persons attended the session last night and 500 were expected at today's concluding sessions

Notables in Ohio Democratic ranks were scheduled to be here for the final session this afternoon Principal speakers were to be Charles Sawyer, national committeeman from Cincinnati, Mrs. Mildred R. Jastel, national committeewoman from Cleveland, and J Freer Bittinger, Ashland, Ohio Democratic chairman; and A E. Roberts, Cincinnati lecturer and writer

Others who were to be introduced today included Clarence Knisley, State Auditor Joseph Ferguson and John McSweeney, candidates for governor Knisley and Ferguson arrived last night.

At a business meeting this morning, the organization pledged its full support in 'bringing about a just and lasting peace for the world" and to "buy war stamps and bonds to the limit of our ability as an organization and individual members"

Use U.S. Tanks To Upset Nazi Attack Plans

Smash German Defenses Near City; Moscow Says Enemy Taken By Surprise, Drive On Ukraine Upset By Move; Kerch Fighting Slows.

BULLETIN

MOSCOW—(UP)—Red army tanks and anti-tank riflemen have smashed a "powerful German mechanized counter-attack" on the Kharkov front and driven the enemy back with severe losses from strongly fortified defense lines, the official news agency reported today in a dispatch from the Ukraine fighting front.

(By International News Service)

MOSCOW—Using giant American triple turret tanks and the latest-type heavy weapons in Soviet Russia's arsenal of war, the army of Marshal Semyon Timoshenko has advanced "several additional miles" on the road to Kharkov and the sweep to the west continues, reliable military information said late today.

The Russian forces at Kharkov already have destroyed or captured 255 large-caliber German guns on the battlefront, equivalent to the heavy armament of five full artillery regiments.

As large forces of Soviet troops swept across the Donets river and various heavily fortified points were taken in Timoshenko's apparently successful effort to smash the Nazi Kharkov defenses officials disclosed for the first time that the attack had definitely crippled Adolf Hitler's contemplated spring offensive in the Ukraine.

Complete evidence has been assembled, it was said, that the Germans were virtually all set for an attack from the Kharkov war line deep into the Ukraine and thence into the Caucasus.

Timoshenko's sudden onslaught took the enemy by surprise however, and completely upset the German plans. Hitler and his generals, faced with grim reality in which "intuition" was to no avail, were compelled to send untried reserve troops into action in numerous threatened sectors.

The whole Nazi time-table was thus upset and the German campaign thrown into reverse.

Many German prisoners taken by the Russians when the first Kharkov defense line was cracked under the initial impetus of Timoshenko's great attack have been identified as reserves.

Depth of the Soviet penetration into the Kharkov area was shown in a report from a Russian tank commander revealing that his unit had captured one of the city's main collective farms, believed to be only a short distance from the metropolis itself.

The Germans had sent tank reinforcements to the farm to guard its precious supplies and avert its capture if possible Soviet forces seized it, however, and thereby cut off a valuable source of supply.

BLOCKED: Enemy Stemmed By Chinese In Salween Onslaught

(By United Press)

CHUNGKING—The Chinese today stemmed Japanese efforts to cross the Salween river north of the Burma road in southern China, and outflank Yung Chang.

The Japanese had persistently tried to cross, it was reported but the terrain was so wild and rugged it gave the Chinese the advantage The Japanese could not use mechanized equipment, and it was not believed they could bring up heavy artillery.

(The All-India radio, heard in London, quoted military circles in Chungking that the situation in Yunnan province was stabilized)

A cholera epidemic raged among refugees of the invasion of Burma and China, and authorities at Kunming appealed to all citizens to have themselves innoculated immediately.

The epidemic began when refugees started pouring into Kunming, and a survey showed that one hospital had had 700 cholera cases in the last few days, though less than 100 had died.

Travelers from Yung Chang said cholera stricken refugees were in every village along the road and there were "hundreds" of them

It was not believed that the

NAPPING: Japs Caught Asleep In Damaging Raid On Lae Base

MELBOURNE — Gen. Douglas MacArthur's United Nations planes caught the Japanese asleep at their important Lae invasion base on the Huon gulf of northern New Guinea yesterday and, in one of their most effective raids, rained bombs on runways and started big fires in buildings, it was announced today.

It was the first time the United States and Australian fliers, in their new American planes, had been over Lae since a reconnoitering flight May 7, during the last phase of the Coral sea battle

Then the Allied planes were looking for signs of Japanese reinforcements

In their raid yesterday, they were exclusively on the attack and it was indicated that they left the much bombed base in chaos.

MacArthur said in his communique that the Japanese were taken by surprise and that the Allied aviators landed all their bombs in the target area.

The Lae raid immediately followed shattering attacks Thursday on nearby Rabul, in New Britain island, and on the enemy's increasingly important seaplane base at Deboyne island in the Louisiades.

The pattern of Allied bombing in the northeastern invasion area plainly indicated that MacArthur's aircraft were still on the hunt for the assembly of naval and transport forces and of reinforcing airplanes, especially the seaplanes bases at Deboyne island.

'Thumbs Up' Edition Tomorrow

TO PAY HONOR to its men in the service of Uncle Sam, the News-Journal will publish a special "Thumbs Up" edition tomorrow.

For the last two weeks, Mansfield families have been sending photographs and biographical sketches on their sons and friends in the army, navy and other branches of the fighting forces to the News-Journal Service editor.

These pictures, hundreds in number, will appear in the "Thumbs Up" edition which has been timed to coincide with "I Am An American Day," established by proclamation of President Roosevelt.

There will be many interesting features, too. One tells about the experience of selectees in their four days at Fort Hayes. Another describes the great naval training station at Great Lakes, Ill Others tell about the draft boards, the doctors and dentists who have entered service, the nurses who are in the army and navy There are many others.

Hundreds of Mansfield men in service now receive the News-Journal by regular subscription. In addition, many other families have made arrangements for their sons and friends in service to receive this special edition that is dedicated to them.

The circulation department will continue to accept such orders, it was announced today, until 9 o'clock tonight.

THE WAR TODAY

* * *

We Americans would do well to rid ourselves of that five-year-old habit of looking at the fighting in China as something far beyond the range of our immediate interests, "a fire on the other side of the river," as the Orientals say.

The Japanese obviously are opening a new phase of their long, heroically-resisted effort to slug China into submission. The fire has leaped the river. It is all part of our war now, no longer merely a case of giving our sympathy to the undaunted Chiang Kai-Shek and his people.

Those widely scattered Chinese fronts are as much part of the total United Nations struggle as the Crimean and Kharkov fronts, although in the coming weeks they may not take up as much black type. But in the long range view our fortunes are only a little less involved in the Nipponese effort to knock China out of the war than in Hitler's latest try at destruction of the Soviet Union.

Japan's current onslaughts on Free China are marked by a vigor which has been lacking since the capture of Hankow three and a half years ago. Many signs support the thesis that regardless of what the Mikado's war machine may attempt in 1942 in other theaters—Australia, India, perhaps Siberia—the China campaign will be a major operation, perhaps most important of all.

To accept this view it is not necessary to regard the current thrust up the Burma road into Yunnan province as the primary phase of the campaign although doubtless the Japanese militarists will exploit any weakness there to the utmost. This may prove only the preparatory stage, blocking Allied aid and setting up China for the haymaker.

Our stake in this is more than the fate of a deeply admired and well-beloved ally. If Hitler knocks out Russia the Allies' prospects of getting at close grips with the enemy in Europe will suffer great damage. Similarly if Free China is enslaved our hopes of obtaining bases on the continent of Asia from which to hammer Japan must be postponed to a future not easily predicted —especially if the present correctness of Russian-Japenese relations continues.

One tragic aspect of the situation is our current inability to turn our aid full flood to the heroic generalissimo of Chungking, hamstrung as we are by vast distances, time and the claims of other phases of the war. It must be said, however, that in Washington there is no lack of appreciation of the significance of what goes on in China.

Our leaders know that China stands in grave danger and that another setback for the Allied cause may be in the making.

CUT-RATE SALES CAUSE RIFT IN FARM COMBINE

Senate Bloc Threatened With Rupture by Wheat and Corn Representatives.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — A split was threatened today in the powerful senate farm bloc, with corn and wheat representatives angry over a decision of other farm spokesmen to permit cut-rate sales of government grain for livestock feeding.

Senators Russell (D-Ga), Bankhead (D-Ala) and McNary (R-Ore), met with grain belt leaders to try for an informal agreement keeping intact the united front of southern tobacco, cotton and rice farmers with western corn, wheat, livestock and dairy interests.

In recent years this group has won an amazing series of legislative victories, sometimes over protests of the president himself, but leaders mentioned the possibility today of an open clash among divergent farm interests.

"If we can't find a suitable compromise then we'll simply have to fight this thing out on the floor," Russell said.

Involved in the dispute were President Roosevelt's demands that the rise in food and other living costs be checked, and protests of corn growers that government stocks of corn and wheat were being used to depress prices.

Bankhead, McNary and Russell talked over this conflict of views with the president in a White House conference yesterday.

President Roosevelt, apparently acting on word from Price Administrator Leon Henderson, has urged farmers to hold prices at least to even parity and has suggested that government stocks of wheat, corn and other grains be released to aid this effort.

Under a gentlemen's agreement, agriculture department officials promised that in releasing surplus wheat stocks for feeding they would see that corn prices were not pushed below recent market levels or the government loan rate of 85 per cent of parity.

Just when all parties appeared satisfied with this compromise a booming protest came from the corn and wheat belt representatives of the American Farm Bureau federation.

8 KILLED IN PLANE CRASHES

Seven Die as Bomber Dives Into River; Four 'Chute To Safety In Utah.

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO — Disaster that overtook two army airplanes in northern California left eight men dead today. In a third crash, that of a bomber en route to Sacramento which plunged to earth in western Utah, four army airmen parachuted to safety.

Seven of the eight victims were killed when a twin-motored bomber dived into the sea at the mouth of Eel river near Eureka. Five of the dead, including the pilot, were army personnel. The other two were attached to the navy air arm. Killed were:

Lieut. W. D. Froehlinsdorf, pilot, Virginia, Minn.; Ensign A. C. Maher, co-pilot, New Orleans, La.; Sergt. W. J. Caissie, Chelsea, Mass.; Sergt. W. E. Andrews, Putnam, Tex.; Sergt. M. L. Christian, Shawnee, Okla.; Corp. S. E. Shaw, Richmond, Va.; Seaman Second Class J. E. Jones, Los Angeles.

Coast guard surface vessels and airplanes rushed to the spot where a tanker master reported he saw the bomber plunge beneath the water, but found only small pieces of wreckage.

In the other fatal crash, 2nd Lieut. Edward R. Cahill, 27, of Newark, N. J., was killed when the P-38 interceptor plane he was piloting struck the ground and burned three miles north of Hamilton Field.

CITES GERMAN MILITARISM AS FORCE BEHIND ADOLF HITLER

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND—A former member of the German reichstag declared today the force behind Hitler—a man with "a third-rate mind"—is tremendous, but that Hitler alone is not responsible for the present Germany.

"It is the Germans themselves and their 200 years of militaristic history," Dr. Gustav Stolper, naturalized economics writer, told a national conference of the mortgage bankers association of America.

"Here in America the first son in a family usually is scheduled to be a business man. In Germany, the first son almost always is destined for the army, or for government service," he said.

Dr. Stolper, who "knew the whole Hitler gang," was in the Austrian government service during the last war. Later he founded and edited a Berlin economic newspaper and served as a member of the reichstag when Hermann Goering was president. He became a United States citizen in 1933.

At the end of the war, he asserted, the United States must maintain a military budget of $8,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000 a year to remain a strong power, adding:

"The United States will have to assume political and economic commitments for the reconstruction of the world and the protection of a lasting peace far in excess of anything the most active cooperationists ever advocated. Economic isolation has become as impossible as political isolationism."

He estimated national debt might reach $150,000,000,000 before post-war equilibrium is attained, and that national income therefor would have to be maintained at $100,000,000,000 a year by large optput and sustained prices.

Up and Down THE STREET

Practically every organization has its "playground" side and the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio is no exception. The Democratic Widdies club "has more fun than you can shake a stick at," according to Mrs. Lena Siferd, state president and also head of the club within a club. It came about several years ago when the women seated at a conference breakfast table discovered that they were all widows and decided to organize because they had so much fun together. The club meets for breakfast at each conference and the affair today was as gay as usual.

* * *

The entertainment hit at last night's session of the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio at the Mansfield-Leland hotel was a comedy skit in which several well-known Mansfielders participated. Directed by Mrs. Mary Troll Anglin, the act included comedy interpretations of the Mother Goose rhyme, "Jack and Jill" as famous composers and singers would write and sing it. Former Mayor Claude M. Hunter, dressed in a silk topper, red tie, and tails, and wearing a Van Dyke beard, was the narrator. John Grabler, who wore a handlebar mustache, was at the piano. The singers were Mrs. Anglin, Miss Doris Ranck, Miss Virginia Davis, City Treasurer Earle K. Troll, and George Tuttle, all dressed in amusing costumes.

Among Mayor W. J. Locke's proudest possessions is a copy of a recent message to congress by President Roosevelt. The mayor was in Washington when the president delivered the message and was seated in the gallery. He keeps the copy of the message on his office desk.

Frederick J. Stecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Stecker, 74 Park avenue west, and assistant dean of men at Ohio State university, has traded his desk for a ship. Stecker recently enlisted in the navy and is stationed at San Francisco, Calif, as a lieutenant. He served as assistant dean at Ohio State for six years.

FACES CHARGE

Mansfieder In O.S.R. Accused In 4-Year-Old Robbery.

A Mansfield youth scheduled to get his release from Ohio State reformatory this summer lost his chance for freedom today when he was arrested by Mansfield police on a four-year-old robbery charge.

Sam Shambera, 350 Park avenue east, was turned over to police conditionally by Arthur L. Glattke, superintendent of the reformatory, to face the old charge upon the request of Harold Lutz, Richland county prosecuting attorney.

Shambera is completing a three and one-half-year sentence for robbery at Lorain.

He is charged with a similar robbery at the Fair Price service station, 320 Park avenue east, on Aug. 24, 1938 and is suspected of two other robberies in Mansfield during the same month.

The Mansfield youth pleaded guilty when arraigned in municipal court this morning and was bound over on $4,000 bond to await action of the grand jury.

13 INJURED AS CAR RUNS WILD

Conveyance Leaves Tracks, Rams Building at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI—(AP)—An Auburn avenue street car went out of control on the steep Liberty street hill today and smashed into a grocery store (at 1429 Sycamore) injuring 13 passengers and a pedestrian.

Most seriously hurt was William Otto, 71, who suffered a crushed arm, rib fractures, and a possible skull fracture.

Front supports of the three-story brick building were demolished and police ordered tenants removed until the second floor could be shored up.

HENDERSON SPOTLIGHTS CHISELERS

Orders Records Opened to Check Holders of 'X' Tickets.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—Price Administrator Leon Henderson today threw the spotlight of publicity on gasoline ration "chiselers" suspected of obtaining high allowance cards by misrepresentation.

Taking his cue from President Roosevelt's press conference remarks in favor of publicity on holders of "X" cards permitting unlimited purchases, Henderson announced that he will issue a directive today ordering all rationing boards to open their records to public inspection "as soon as practicable."

His action will make it possible to determine the type of ration cards issued to congressmen and other government officials involved in a "teapot explosion" on Capitol Hill.

The price administrator earlier this week ruled that members of congress and officials of government departments are entitled to "X" cards for "official business," including transportation "to conduct business with a government agency."

Henderson's publicity order was issued only a few hours after the senate—bitterly resentful of public and newspaper criticism of congressmen who obtained "X" cards—rejected a resolution asking them to waive "special rights, privileges and exemptions" under the gasoline or other rationing programs.

It was defeated 66 to 2, with its sponsor, Sen. Sheridan Downey, D., Calif., and Sen. Claude Pepper, D., Fla., the only legislators voting "aye."

The chamber then unleashed a scathing attack on "government bureaucrats" who enjoy free use of automobiles and gasoline.

The only ration cards which will escape public inspection are those issued to the military services and law enforcement agencies.

But all others will be checked by OPA officials themselves—along with neighbors of "chiselers"—to see if holders of preference cards actually are entitled to them.

A still further warning was continued in a statement today by Attorney General Francis Biddle that the justice department's "war frauds" unit will investigate and prosecute any complaints arising from government rationing programs—which would include the gasoline registration—and price ceiling regulations.

Two Youths, Girl Killed When Car Runs Into Pole

CLEVELAND (INS) — Two 'teen-age boys and one girl were killed and five others seriously injured today when the automobile in which they were riding went out of control on a curve in nearby Hunting Valley and collided with a utility pole.

Of the three dead, two were identified, one tentatively. Police said that Verna Bortz, 17, of Mineral Ridge, near Niles, was killed instantly. Tentatively identified was Norman McNally, about 19, no address.

The accident happened, according to police, when the automobile, packed with eight passengers, swerved off Cedar road 1,000 feet west of River road about 2:30 this morning.

The five survivors were hospitalized at St. Luke's and Huron Road hospitals.

Police believed Valuschk was the driver of the automobile.

CONGREGATION OF ST. PAUL'S TO BURN MORTGAGE

Church to Celebrate Paying Of Indebtedness With Special Service.

A service of praise and thanksgiving will be conducted at the St. Paul Lutheran church Sunday at 10:30 a. m. when the final note of indebtedness is burned to mark the completion of an extensive remodeling and renovation program on all of the church property.

Beginning back in the late twenties the church parlors were rebuilt and later the auditorium and Sunday school rooms were decorated. Stanley Blackstone, building fund treasurer, will make a report, and he will assist Rev. Herman L. Gilbert, pastor, in the special note burning ceremonies. Rev. Gilbert will speak on the subject, "When Dreams Come True." The three groups of the children of the church will study during the worship period.

Members of the 1942 confirmation class will be publicly examined at the beginning of the worship in preparation for confirmation services which will be held May 24. Class members are Rheinhold Elsasser, jr., Shirley Ernsberger, Louis Holzworth, Doris Jacobs, James Loesch, Jack Rowe, Robert Weidner and Helmut Wiehm.

A playlet will be given before the Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. in the spirit of India Lace Day under the supervision of Mrs. E. G. Pankow. The cast of characters will be Mrs. Joseph Morgenstern, Mrs. Don Borchardt, Anna Marie Fischer and Thomas Pankow.

Donald Hipp will present the topic, "A Christian Citizen Cherishes His Country's Traditions," before the Luther league at 6:30 p. m.

The choir will rehearse Friday at 7 p. m. while members of the first aid class will hold a special session at 7:30 p. m.

Pastor to Attend Lutheran Convention

Pastors and lay delegates from the Lutheran churches of Mansfield and vicinity will leave Monday to attend the four-day convention of the United Lutheran Synod of Ohio which will be held Monday through Thursday in Glenwood Lutheran church, Toledo, where Dr. Alvin E. Bell, former Mansfielder, is pastor.

Rev. George W. Miley, D. D. Columbus, president of the Synod, will appear before the group for the first time as its head. He will preach the opening sermon Monday evening. Leaving Toledo following a pastorate of 17 years, he assumed leadership of the Synod last September.

The service of ordination will be held Wednesday evening for senior graduates of seminaries who have received calls to Ohio congregations. Expecting to attend from the local churches are Rev. G. E. Swoyer and Rev. M. C. Johnson, and T. D. Brown, all of First Lutheran church; Rev. H. S. Garnes and George Stelts of St. Luke's church; Rev. C. A. Portz and R. V. Cairns of St. Mark's church; Rev. C. F. Sheriff of St. Matthew's church and Rev. H. L. Gilbert and O. L. Seybold of the St. Paul church. Rev. M. W. Wappner, chaplain of the Ohio State Reformatory, is planning to attend several sessions.

Patriotic Sermon To Be Given Sunday

In keeping with President Roosevelt's proclamation designating tomorrow as "I Am an American" Sunday, Rev. Paul H. Saleste, pastor of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church will preach a patriotic sermon entitled "God's Country" at the worship service tomorrow. The senior choir will sing the appropriate anthem "One God, One Country, and One Flag."

A conference of teachers and workers who will serve in the Community Vacation church schools next month will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday. The vacation school project is being sponsored by the Sunday School Superintendents association of Mansfield.

H. R. Fiedler will speak on "The Qualifications of a Sunday School Teacher" at the quarterly pot-luck supper meeting of St. John's Sunday school teachers and workers at 6:30 p. m. Thursday. Conrad Diehm is in charge of arrangements.

Additional meetings scheduled for the week include St. John's guild, 2 p. m. Wednesday, in charge of Mrs. Malvina Damlos and junior choir rehearsal, 6:30 p. m., and senior choir, 7:30 p. m. Friday.

First Presbyterian Services Listed

"The One Thing We Cannot Live Without" is the title of Rev. David N. Roller's sermon at 10:45 worship services, tomorrow at the First Presbyterian church.

Special music for the service will include the offertory solo, sung by Herman Clingan, entitled "The Living God"; and the Senior choir anthem "Oh Lord Most Holy" by Franck. Miss Mabel Zehner, church organist, will play "Meditation" by Klein, "By the Brook" by Boisdeffre, "Prayer" by Wolf and Rinck's "Postlude Festive."

Mrs. J. M. Johnston will review the book "Shake Hands With the Dragon" at the Women's Guild meeting to be held at 2 p. m., Thursday, at the church. Circle 1 is in charge of arrangements.

Preaches First Sermon Here Sunday

Rev. J. Campbell White, of New York City who last month accepted a call to the pastorate of the United Presbyterian church will preach his first sermon as pastor of the church tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

Before coming here, Rev. White was pastor for 11 years of the West 44th Street United Presbyterian church in New York City, which has specialized in reaching neglected children and setting up recreation and religious education programs for them.

He was president of Wooster college for four years from 1915-19. A Wooster graduate, he is the only alumnus to serve as president of the institution.

Opening his public career as national secretary of the Y. M. C. A. college department, he later spent 10 years in Calcutta, India, as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. there. Other positions held by Rev. White have been general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary movement of the United States and Canada; and acting president for one year and vice-president for seven years of the Biblical Seminary in New York.

Rev. and Mrs. White are residing in Mansfield at 91 Lind avenue.

route to induction stations should be stopped, the announcement said, adding:

"Farewell ceremonies may be arranged at the time the group departs for the reception center, since all of the men in such groups have been accepted for military service and ordered to active duty."

Under the new plan, the army will furnish transportation, meals and lodging of an inductee-reservist during his trip from the induction center to his home and return to a designated reception center, without going home.

The 14-day period may be extended or shortened by not more than two days in order to meet schedules at reception centers or to avoid Sunday travel.

"Every man who wishes to return to his home will be given the opportunity to do so without being required to establish his reasons for returning," said the announcement.

JAPS HALTED ON SALWEEN BANKS

Chinese Block Enemy Attempt To Cross River; Refugees Hit by Cholera.

Japanese would be able to encircle many defenders through their crossing of the Irrawaddy river near Katha last Sunday.

The British apparently have withdrawn far enough not to be threatened from Katha. There was no confirmation here of reports that the British had extricated themselves from encirclement in Burma and reached the Indian border.

(Authoritative quarters in London denied that British troops had been completely withdrawn from Burma.)

Chinese military quarters were pleased with continued Allied aerial blows at the Japanese. A communique from New Delhi, India, yesterday reported that United States army bombers on Thursday had made a second daylight attack on Japanese-held Mytikyina airdrome in northern Burma smashing grounded planes, runways and buildings.

British Dip In On North Burma Line

LONDON —(AP)— British forces in Burma were reported today digging in to repel a fresh Japanese assault on the northern Burma backdoor route to India while wounded soldiers and others who have had to abandon their equipment or lost their units were being moved through mountain passes into India.

The RAF gave support to the weary defenders of Burma with a destructive attack from high and low levels on the airdrome at Akyab, Japanese-held port on the Bay of Bengal about 80 miles below the Indian frontier, official reports said.

A British source said Japanese troops thrusting toward India have made contact with the British in the upper Chindwin river valley north of Shwegyin, enemy-held Burma town, and an attack is expected. Shwegyin is about 50 miles from the nearest point of the Burmese-Indian border.

There has been no general British retreat from Burma, the British commentator declared.

U. S. Fliers Destroy Jap Planes In Burma

NEW DELHI — (INS) — United States army bombers, increasing the fury of their aerial blows against Japanese bases in Burma, were reported by the New Delhi radio today to have destroyed 15 enemy planes on the ground during a raid on an airdrome at Myitkyina.

The raid which netted the 15 planes was carried out Thursday. Myitkyina is the principal northern Burma port on the Irrawaddy river 175 miles northwest of Lashio. Runways and buildings also were pounded and all the American fliers returned safely, a communique said.

Observers in New Delhi expressed the belief that the attacks of the American bombers, under Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, were being carried out not only to destroy prespective Japanese "jumping off" points for a thrust at India, but in conjunction with a Chinese troop movement.

JUDGE DIES

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Cleveland's armless judge, David Moylan of the municipal court, died today after a heart attack. He was 64.

REDS NEARING KHARKOV; KERCH BATTLE SLOWS

Timoshenko's Army Continues Offensive on Key Ukraine City.

Russian forces had taken several important new "key localities."

Large forces of Russians smashed across the Donets river at several new points in a steamroller drive aimed at completely smashing the Nazi defenses before Kharkov, it was reported.

(A dispatch by the Vichy news agency from Stockholm said that the vanguard of Timoshenko's armies was in the outskirts of Kharkov and that a big battle of Nazi and Russian tank forces was raging outside the city.)

The German forces were reported suffering tremendous losses as the Red army regained a number of populated points and captured many prisoners, tanks, guns, vehicles, ammunition and food.

(A special German announcement from Adolf Hitler's headquarters said that "in the Kharkov area the enemy continued his attacks which were repelled by hard fighting." It was claimed that the Nazis launched successful counter-attacks.)

(The Germans were reported to have conceded that the Russian attacks in the Donets basin are the most powerful launched by the Soviets since last winter.

(According to certain "hints" dropped by the Russians, the Vichy agency said, the Red army made a new breach in the German lines at Lozovaiya, 70 miles south of Kharkov, with the objective of reaching Dniepropetrovsk and cutting the German-held railway network feeding the regions leading to Taganrog and the Crimea.

A supplement to the mid-day communique reported heavy fighting in progress on the Leningrad front where 1,200 Nazi officers and men were annihilated.

On the central front west of Moscow four German military trains were wrecked and 300 Nazis killed, it was said.

Advanced units of the Red army were said to be battling the Germans in a fierce engagement in the vicinity of the railway station northeast of the city.

The Moscow radio said the offensive before Kharkov was increasing in intensity at the passing of each hour

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1942.

Drive carefully tomorrow—or you may decide to practice up a little bit on walking.

Picked up and passed along: "Taxes may be high, but we don't have to dodge bombs on our way to pay them."

The slot machines and other gambling rackets appear anxious to do their share in relieving people of any surplus money that might otherwise contribute to inflation.

Better Prepared Than Ever Before

ANY DAY-TO-DAY estimate of the war situation, based on happenings of the preceding twenty-four hours, or the past week, serves little purpose—except to keep observers in touch with current events, in which there is, naturally an intense interest.

Thus far, since the Pearl Harbor debacle, the Japanese have seemed to have much the best of it in the Far East as they have attained one after another of their objectives—but it must be remembered that the full power of the United States is still far from being reached while the Japs were at the peak of efficiency at the very start.

Despite the handicaps of appeasement policies which extended through to last December 7, the United States was at no time in its history as well prepared for war as when Japan made its first sneak attack.

It is estimated that we are more than two years ahead of where we were in a corresponding period of participation in the first World war, and that instead of obtaining equipment from our allies, as was then done, we are fully equipping our own forces and also helping to equip our allies.

However great may be the hopes of a short war, all preparations must be for a long, hard war—with willingness to make heavier sacrifices month after month.

It has been pointed out that the main problem during this year is to develop plans for offensive action in carrying the war to the enemy in sufficient force to keep China and Russia from being conquered separately.

The big enemy, it must be kept in mind, is Hitlerized Germany. Without German support Japan cannot long pursue its aggressive course. Japan must be fought and defeated, but Nazi Germany is the foe whose fall must come first.

Hitler's Place In History

WHILE the mind of Hitler may be "inscrutable," as many alienists contend, his feelings are ordinarily revealed by his utterances, and to the decent, humane and civilized part of mankind he now seems to be in the position of a trapped rat.

There need be no objection to this comparison, in the minds of men who, while decorously disapproving of Hitler, seem to think he should be treated with normal respect on account of his position. There are still people who regard a uniform or a toplofty title as changing the quality of a man and giving him the right to do what he does, even though it be an orgy of crime and cruelty.

In these dreadful days men become accustomed to evil, until robbery, persecution and slaughter come to seem commonplace, and wickedness is ignored. But crime is still crime, cruelty is still cruelty, murder is still murder, assassination is assassination. And surely inhuman crimes are all the more horribie and reprehensible when they are committed by men in high place, in the name of what they weirdly regard as governmental authority.

Hitler is a monster who has killed more people, caused more grief and pain, broken more human laws, poured more evil upon the world, than any other person in modern times. He has done far more evil than the great medieval destroyer, Genghis Khan. He may be literally the wickedest ruler in human history. There is relief merely in the knowledge that fate or providence seems to be wrecking some of his evil plans.

Tough Year for Politicians

CONGRESSMEN and other groups of politicians complain of a lack of interest in politics this year. Not in Washington especially but back home. They say people won't pay any attention to political speeches and letters. The prospect is for a very light vote next fall.

Evident lack of strong partisan controversy at present is a wholesome phenomenon. The important thing now is a united war front. Citizens, of course, should vote according to their convictions, but a thoughtful voter this year will naturally think of himself as a patriot rather than a partisan.

There is ample room for the practice of this principle alike by private citizens and by people in office. There must be a continuation of the two-party system which is normal in this country. It would be a misfortune if either party were to grow futile. The American system, like every other free system, requires honest criticism and honest partisanship.

Chinese Have Staying-Power

AMERICANS should make no mistake about the Chinese. They are in the war to stay. They have not fought the Japanese through all these bitter years, alone and hungry and poorly armed and sustained only by the promises of their foreign friends, to give up now when the war is half won.

Recent news from Burma underscores this statement. The Chinese forces guarding the Burma road let the enemy through until it seemed as if the Japanese had a clear passage to interior China. Then, just as the world was giving up hope for that crucial region, the Chinese quietly closed in behind the triumphant Japs, cut them to pieces and chalked up a big victory.

Some of the credit for this feat comes to America, for they were led by Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, and American volunteer flyers were helping them. But the Chinese soldiers had the spirit and competency for the job, and what they did there was what they and their comrades had done many times in their own country under native leadership.

The Chinese today are a shining example of courage, democracy, patriotism and the will to live, and their fight for survival helps Americans as much as the American effort helps them.

"Come the four corners of the world against us, and we will shock them" said Shakespeare's Prince Henry. That goes now for Uncle Sam.

SHIPS AND MORE SHIPS, AHOY!

No 'Temporary' Federal Agencies

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT, in asserting that "hardly an agency (meaning Uncle Sam's wartime emergency agencies) is being set up which doesn't hope to continue its activities into the post-war period," may have misexpressed himself slightly.

Such agencies, newly created or in process of creation, are doing their hoping right now, according to the Ohio solon.

I have my doubts that they're as far-seeing as that.

They're being established, supposedly, on a temporary basis. That's what their personnels are told when they're given their various send-offs. I think they begin work genuinely on that theory. If the occasion for 'em should evaporate quite speedily, I surmise that they'd disintegrate rather unresistingly.

Give them tenures of two or three years apiece, though, until they've had time to regard themselves as regular, permanent government bureaus, then tell 'em that the proper junctures' arrived for them to be abolished—and watch 'em fight for their lives, tooth and toenail!

Furthermore, they'll be sufficiently dug in to hang on everlastingly. Here and there an agency's name and alphabetical classification may be changed a bit, but it'll be the same old agency—or same young agency.

On Into Eternity.

If Senator Taft had put it that an agency of today will last on into eternity, no matter how temporary its origin may have been he'd have had plenty of precedents to cite in support of his contention.

Young folk of post-World War No. I's generation, glancing around Washington and seeing themselves surrounded, to the verge of suffocation with federal commissions and things, of every sort and description, fancy that it's a condition dating back to our first president's era.

It does no such thing.

It dates back, in instalments, to a succession of past durations.

Washington's agencies classify, in the Congressional Directory, as "independent offices." I don't know how many the presidential Father of his Country was blessed with, because I can't find a Directory as old as that. The issue of 1908 is the earliest copy I'm able to lay my hands on.

In that there are 15 of 'em

Initially they were temporaries, unquestionably, created by exigencies of the 1812, Mexican, Secession and Spanish-American wars, and some of them, perhaps, by the 1872 economic emergency. Anyway, they never were abolished. They're better intrenched now than some of our younger cabinet departments.

Well, there was a perfect epidemic of executive office creations during the 1914-'18 war period. As at present, they were for the duration, but they're still doing business. I don't say they're superfluous, but lookit how temporary they were not!

Next there was a violent outbreak of creations to deal with the depression spell early in the 30's—all temporarily, now as permanent. President Roosevelt himself can't terminate 'em. He even has trouble persuading congress to reduce their miscellaneous allowances.

117 Listed.

Taking a glance at the last Congressional Directory, I counted 117 of these set-ups, as compared with 15 in the 1908 volume.

And 117 is no complete list, believe me.

They're being established too fast for the Directory to keep up with.

Temporary? Heck! They're just starting to go, from now, on into American history.

Senator Taft's dope isn't alone, though, that we're loading up enormously.

His thesis is that we've at the helm a New Deal administration, which, under cover of the war emergency, is snooping a New Deal regime into power, to function indefinitely on, economically, after the war's a past number.

The Ohio senator, like some Democratic conservatives (far be it from me to deprecate conservatism), is worried as to the post-war future.

They're on a hot spot.

They're 100 per cent pro-administration on the war issue, and yet they figure that it's an issue that's being manipulated against their ultimate politico-economic ideas.

Old Ways Are Gone

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

I GRIN when I hear of these post-war plans. Limited as is my wisdom, I have learned one thing, THE GOOD OLD DAY WILL NEVER COME BACK.

Never again are we going to know anything approximating the peace and security of our childhood. Never again will we experience the quiet, monotonous days of our youth.

THIS WAR IS HERE TO LAST!

It has always been here, actually. But not until machines were invented was its fury unleashed. Now we must deal With Hell in person as long as we live. Now we must see Right fighting Wrong in the actual murk and stink of battle line and trench . . . and we must accustom our way of life to it.

All this talk of Peace—phooey! There will never again be peace. And why should there be peace? Where did we get this idea, anyway, that peace was our natural heritage? No great soul has ever known peace. No great era of human life has ever known peace. You might as well demand caviar and cream puffs. Christ Himself did not know peace.

We human beings were made to fight and we are going to have to fight for the rest of our lives. We are going to have to fight our own weakness and cowardice, our own stupidity and ignorance as well as the beasts of the jungle.

We are big, grown-up boys and girls now. We have no right to ask for peace or expect it. If we are worth our makings, we will thank God for the chance to fight . . . to carry out His plan of decency and justice . . . to raise hell with those who would destroy it.

THERE WILL NEVER AGAIN BE PEACE, WE DO NOT NEED PEACE ANY MORE THAN WE NEED NURSING BOTTLES. WE NEED ARMS . . . WE NEED FLAMING FAITH . . . WE NEED THE COURAGE TO ENDURE UNCERTAINTY AND MISERY AND HEARTBREAK.

We are not children any longer . . . little, gibbering savages sitting around camp fires. We are tall and glorious men and women who can take it on the chin!

DON'T TALK TO ME ABOUT PEACE! I HAVE ONLY A FEW YEARS LEFT OF LIFE BUT I DO NOT WANT TO HAVE THEM FILLED WITH PEACE. I WANT TO HAVE THEM FILLED WITH STRUGGLE AND REBELLION AND REVOLT AGAINST CRUELTY AND INJUSTICE. I WANT TO HAVE THEM FILLED WITH ONE WILD, LAST, LAUGHING SWORD STROKE FOR THE SAKE OF THE GOD IN WHOM I BELIEVE . . . THE GOD WHO GAVE US THE ONLY DREAM OF FRIENDLINESS THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Tuesday, May 16, 1922.

Mrs. Harry Downs, state treasurer of the Lutheran Women's Missionary society of the Synod of Ohio was in Columbus attending a convention.

Two hundred employes of O. P. S. were in Melco attending annual picnic.

Miss Marie Berno of New York City, former Mansfielder, who returned for a visit, after a successful season in a Broadway play, had consented to appear in a local musical comedy, "Kathleen."

Dean Voigt of Ohio university, Athens, was a house guest of Earl Kochheiser, West Fourth street.

Dr. Paul Kohler, president of the Lutheran Synod of Ohio, was in Toledo to deliver an address at a special meeting.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Sunday, May 16, 1937.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Witter, Park avenue west, returned home after visiting in Louisville, Ky.

Mrs. Mary Bernhard, 69, died.

Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Allen, 409 Springmill street.

W. I. Chalfant celebrated his 73rd birthday with a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Day, Lexington road.

Mrs. John Miller, the former Mildred Fox, was feted by friends at a nuptial party.

TODAY IN HISTORY

May 16 — William H. Seward, prominent American statesman, was born at Florida, N. Y., on May 16, 1801. The most singularly important achievement of Seward's career was his purchase from Russia of the Alaskan territory. Ignorant critics called the region an Arctic waste and termed it "Seward's Icebox." The national debt had mounted to three billion dollars at the time of the transaction, giving rise to opponents' cries of extravagance.

Timely Editorial

Education Defined.

The other day, on the radio, Lyman Bryson presented a pretty good definition of education. ("Education is anything that we do for the purpose of taking advantage of the experience of some one else.") The definition is of that particularly stimulating kind which tempts one to expand it into an essay. This, in fact, is precisly what Mr. Bryson himself proceeded to.

But it would be perhaps more educational if each one of us expanded it into an essay out of his own experience. Which reminds one that the reason some people are chronically uneducable is that they fail to take advantage not only of the experience of others but even of their own.—New York Times.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Gas Rationing Holding Attention, Congress Ponders Taxation Ideas

—By ASSOCIATED PRESS

YOU CAN deprive an American of sugar, slap heavy taxes on him and put him in victory pants. But when you start taking away his automobile—brother, move carefully! That, at least, is the wary view of many congressmen.

When Senator Downey (D., Calif.) introduced a bill enabling the government to build up a stockpile of cars, tires and parts by buying or requisitioning the cars, formidable opposition appeared. Senator Connally (D., Tex.) warned that public reaction would be "terrible" if some cars were requisitioned and others were not. Senator Herring (D-Iowa) thought that at this stage of the war "people shouldn't be frightened unnecessarily."

Rations For Gasoline.

Meanwhile millions of Eastern motorists were wondering hopefully if they could be classified as "essential" drivers. If they couldn't they would not be allowed to buy more than three gallons of gas a week under the rationing plan.

Many of the Eastern motorists grumbled that the rationing should apply to motorists in all sections of the nation or to none at all. And there were reports that applicants were stretching the truth about their legitimate needs.

After OPA received "a heck of a lot" of inquiries from worried motorists it issued the assurance that every motorist who customarily drives to work will get enough gasoline to continue to do so. Tourists likewise were assured that they could count on enough gas to get home on—plus a ration card.

Congressmen found the government regarded them as "essential," and so can get an unlimited supply for their private cars when used on official business. This stand rankled some constituents and several lawmakers carefully pointed out that they weren't asking for the "unlimited" cards.

The Quest for Money.

Compared to pre-war days, American pockets are bulging with money. How to get Uncle Sam's fingers on much of that money is a problem bothering many of Washington's fiscal experts.

The money is wanted first because Uncle Sam needs billions of it to prosecute the war, and second because so much money in people's pockets when store shelves are thinning makes inflation a real threat.

These were some of the most-talked-of techniques for extracting the money:

Compulsory savings — By this the backers usually had in mind an arrangement whereby a certain percentage of every paycheck would be deducted and invested in war bonds for the employe. Rep. Gore (D-Tenn) proposed such a bill, with deductions of 6% and up.

Withholding tax — Senator George (D-Ga) was urging such a device. Somewhat like compulsory savings, it would automatically relieve Americans of from 5 to 10% of their wages, salaries and dividends. But the big difference is that the money taxed would never be returned, while compulsory savings would be an interest-bearing investment.

Stiffer income taxes—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, Price Administrator Henderson and tax experts for the house ways and means committee were all looking favorably at this device to raise an extra billion or so. The house committee voted to lower exemptions of single persons from $750 to $500 and married persons from $1,500 to $1,200.

Sales tax—This would call for a flat tax, say 2%, on most retail purchases. Considerable support for such a tax developed among house tax experts despite the administration's long-standing objection to such a tax as hitting the poor much harder than the rich.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—He used to serve as a deck officer on a battleship—that was in the last war—but now he builds steel construction piers where battleships, aircraft carriers, and any other type of ship can be converted. He's built four this year, three before Pearl Harbor, the fourth just completed at Staten Island.

So naturally George Ward Rogers feels pretty good about the way things are going. They broke a record with this newest steel pier—a time record. Where 45 days previously nothing was to be seen, now there is this newest 7000 ft. shipway—23 days faster than the previous record for a job of this type.

"I come from a tribe of dock wallopers," says George Ward Rogers, "three generations of shirt sleeve workers. That's something of a record too. Contractors are always going broke. We haven't. You make a bid and you name your time and you buy your materials, which vary in price with the leaves of the calendar, and then the weather goes bad, and your work is held up, and you lose money so fast it makes your head swim."

* * *

IN OTHER words, he gambles, just as all contractors have to gamble.

But in this newest job he had a silent partner working on his side. Most of the workers on the job were Scandinavians. There were Norwegians and Danes. They are the people who have been driven to our shores when their own countries were overrun by the Nazis. These Norwegians and Danes figured it out this way. Every lick they hit for the pier was a lick at Hitler. Their wives used to come down to the waterfront and watch their men toil.

"This pier is sort of like a prayer to us," one middle-aged woman said. "It shows that we are doing something too."

* * *

OLD Corneil grads will know who George Ward Rogers is. Above Cayuga's waters he won his letters in baseball, basketball and track. What he wanted most was to stroke an oar for the crew. He didn't make the grade. But fighting on Uncle Sam's battleships during the last war made up for that.

Today Rogers is a happily married man, lives in Brooklyn, which is also the home of "Dem Bums," and has two daughters, one 19, the other 21. Both are studying to become defense motor mechanics, learning to dismantle and re-assemble motors.

He's 46. He wants to go back into the Navy. But the need for guys who can build steel construction piers in a hurry is greater than is the need even for deck officers.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"If you get an O.K. from Washington, I'll pay you off with a catcher's mitt, two kites and a white mouse."

At Home

On Men With Dependents.

Men with dependents need not expect to be called for military duty before 1943. A majority of these will not be called then if they will search their souls and fit themselves into the pattern of useful citizens having a vital part in the war effort.

That, in substance, was the opinion of America's Selective Service director, Lewis B. Hershey. But he did warn that perhaps 12,000,000 men would be shifted to new jobs, either in the armed forces or war industry, before the end of 1942.

* * *

Women's Auxiliary.

Though they won't be exactly Amazons, the U. S. army will have women in its ranks. Congress took final action to authorize the army to raise a Women's Army Auxiliary Corps of 150,000 volunteers who would relieve soldiers from many non-combatant duties.

Billy 'Busts a Duke.'

Waging his first fight since he donned his soldier's suit, Pvt. Billy Conn became a casualty in Pittsburgh, breaking his left hand in an engagement with father-in-law Jimmy Smith, one-time big-league ball player. Smith swore vendetta against Conn a year ago for marrying his pretty daughter, Mary.

The occasion of family fisticuffs was the christening of Conn's son, an event which friends hoped to use as a hatchet-burying ceremony. The participants forewent the preliminary hand-shake and came out fighting.

Said Billy alighting from plane in New York: "I bust the duke on Smitty's head."

Result: someone else will fight Pvt. Joe Louis in June.

Abroad

China's Mouse-Trap Play.

On the whole, this week's news from the Pacific-Asiatic area was better. Not the best, perhaps, but better.

Allied nations took cheer from the reports of the naval engagement with the Japanese in the Coral Sea northeast of Australia, hailed the surprise encirclement of Japanese troops which had whipped into China through the Burma back door.

Nobody knew just how loudly to cheer the naval victory. Readers knew only that an invasion attempt had been halted, at least temporarily, that the Japanese force encountered had retired with some 23 or 24 ships knocked out. It was encouraging to note, though, that in the battle of the Macassar straits, with comparable damage, the Nipponese kept coming. This time they were chased from the battle scene.

Along the Burma road, the Japs were tricked into a Chinese version of American footballs mouse-trap play. Breezing up through Burma, the Nipponese had apparently been left through to Lashio. From there they swept northward and ran smack into devastating artillery fire that the Chinese said killed 4,500 of them.

Meanwhile the Eastern Burma Chinese units came to life and closed the trap from the rear, slashing at thin Japanese communication lines. Late reports indicated that the Japanese setback was only temporary, that they were still moving into China's Yunnan province.

Church vs. Naziism.

Relentlessly, and often diabolically, the German government of Adolf Hitler has sought to undermine the faith of Germans in Christianity.

Last week-end, news reached Switzerland that the powerful Michael Cardinal von Faulhaber, Catholic archbishop of Munich, had boldly condemned Nazi discriminations against Catholics such as the bans against church publications and the restrictions on religious education in the schools. He was reported saying that "the wildest discord rules in the homeland," and that "we will not give up the light of the word of God because the Pope was not born a German."

* * *

Blow for Freedom.

For months the 623-ton coastal steamer Galtesund plyed along Norway's coast between Oslo and Bergen. Recently several young anti-Nazi Norwegians boarded the ship inconspicuously at various ports. As the boat left Flekkefjord they hauled out pistols, took over the ship and headed it straight across the U-boat-infested North Sea for England, 400 miles away. They reached a British port with their prize after being spotted by British patrol planes and guided through the intricate maze of mine fields by a British trawler.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

NEW SORORITY HAS SPECIAL BANQUET

Officers of Beta Pi Mu Installed Following Dinner at Southern Hotel Friday Night; Founders' Day Observed.

THE private dining room at the Hotel Southern was the scene last evening of the Founders' day banquet and installation of officers of the newly organized Beta Pi Mu sorority. Dinner was served at a long table decorated with a large centerpiece of red, white and blue flowers bordered with matching corsages which were presented as favors to the members.

Miss Ettie Mullett presided as toastmistress. Miss Barbara Harlos read and presented the constitution after which there was distribution of secret pals' names, presentation of the club colors of blue and white and the flower of the organization, a rose, by Miss Betty Jona. The president, Miss Lucille Meyer, was recipient of the sorority key and colors.

Candlelight ceremony for installation of officers was performed by Miss Margaret Rizer. Besides Miss Meyer, the officers are Miss Marilyn Wright, vice president; Miss Marjorie Beidelschies, secretary-treasurer; Miss Marguerite Bader, sergeant-at-arms, and Miss Anna Marie McQuaid, corresponding secretary. Speech by the president concluded the meeting.

Committee in charge of arrangements for the evening was comprised of the Misses Wright, Rizer, Jona and Harlos. Following the dinner and program, the group spent the social hour playing bridge. Prizes were won by Miss McQuaid and Miss Mullett.

Next regular meeting will be a steak fry at Brookside park in Ashland on May 28. Committee in charge will be composed of Miss Bader, Miss Eleanor Recker and Mrs. John Wolf. At the close of the evening the birthday anniversary of Miss Mary Baker was honored and she was presented with the floral centerpiece as a gift.

HOROSCOPE

For Sunday, May 17.

Sunday's horoscope is an eventful and intriguing one, with forecast of much surprising activity having peculiar and subtle currents. While there may be social and emotional pleasures and engagements yet even these call for discretion, vigilance and a conservative use of the energies and funds.

Those whose birthday it is may be confronted by a year of many opportunities for developing their talents and gaining a sure foothold on the ladder of success, financial credit, and happiness. Versatility and creativeness in art, several professions and business are recognized.

For Monday, May 18.

Monday's astrological forecast is for a day of sensational opportunity to grasp large things in a big way, and in connection with major interests or organizations, if the background, preparedness and stability of mind and character are fitted to meet such worthwhile openings. But there may be an element of suddenness and surprise and may bewilder.

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy the presentation of a spectacular, surprising and amazing offer, in the way of expressing their fine creative talents, stability and worth, probably in unusual directions. But such may so bewilder, confuse and perplex that subtle as well as sinister situations may frustrate unusual prospects.

ST. AGNES GUILD.

Mrs. Lester Thompson and Miss Mary Thompson were hostesses to members of the St. Agnes' Guild Thursday in the undercroft of the church. Fifteen were in attendance and participated in the devotional period led by Mrs. Henry Bronkar, whose topic was "Prayer." Mrs. E. C. Peat conducted the business session when reports were given by the various committees. Refreshments were served at a long table decorated with garden flowers. The next meeting will be in the undercroft June 11 with Mrs. Hazel Whisler and Mrs. N. B. Ballantine as hostesses.

COTTAGE CLUB HEARS "LILAC DAY PROGRAM"

Mrs. Dean Dickerson Entertains Garden Club at Her Home Friday for Luncheon and Entertainment; Group Plans Picnic.

OBSERVING their annual "Lilac day" members of the Cottage Garden club met Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Dean Dickerson, 417 Chevy Chase road. Mrs. A. C. Tuttle was the associate hostess. Twenty members and two guests, Mrs. J. B. Squires of Lakewood, guest of her mother, Mrs. Tuttle, 73 Sherman avenue, and Mrs. R. R. Alexander of Tampa, Fla., were in attendance. Mrs. Alexander, a former president of the club, is visiting with friends in the city.

Luncheon was served buffet style from a table centered with yellow and dark orchid tulips and white lilacs. Mrs. C. F. Sheriff and Mrs. H. G. Miller presided. Roll call was answered on the topic, "Suggestions for Patriotic Flower Arrangements." Such arrangements were exhibited by Mrs. Miller, Mrs. J. B. Conard, Mrs. H. D. Smith and Mrs. S. A. Wentz.

In keeping with the celebration of "lilac day," Mrs. Wentz arrangeed a program which consisted of a talk by Mrs. Tuttle on "How to Grow Lilacs" and poems by Mrs. Sheriff, entitled "The Lilac" by Wolfe, "Tree Top Road" by Smith and a humorous monologue, by Rice.

Plans were made for a picnic to be held June 5 at Middle park at noon with arrangements in charge of Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Conard and Mrs. Tuttle.

Farewell Party Given Friday

For the pleasure of Miss Mary Shafer, 527 West Fourth street, was the party given last evening at the home of Miss Virginia Fox, 336 West Fifth street. Miss Shafer will leave soon to work in Cleveland at the government office of Emergency Management.

Twelve guests were present and enjoyed the diversion of bridge. Prizes were won by Miss Mary Ellen Bechtel and Miss Margaret Steward. The group presented Miss Shafer with a gift of linen. At a late hour a luncheon was served at small tables decorated with dainty appointments in blue and yellow.

Put an extra layer of waxed paper in the pan used for baking gingerbread or molasses cake. Molasses has a way of burning easily so the extra waxed paper is a protection.

Luncheon Served To Bible Group At Women's Club

Programs for the coming year were used as place cards when 19 members of the Neighborhood Bible club and two guests, Mrs. Grace P hl and Mrs. W. J. Tappan, had a one o'clock luncheon at the Women's Club on Friday. Hostesses were Mrs. D. W. Cummins and Mrs. C. E. Frankeberger.

Those present were seated at two tables centered with bowls of purple iris and yellow buttercups, the club colors. Mrs. E. Ray Jenkins, president, conducted the business session. Roll call was answered with verses from the book of Hebrew, which was studied during the past year.

Plans were made to have a picnic on June 19 at the home of Mrs. Bert Gettles, 142 Rae avenue. Mrs. B. L. Chase led devotions. Review of the past year's work was given by Mrs. Gettles. The secretary, Mrs. R. E. McCombs, distributed the books to be used in the study of Psalms when the club begins its new year with a meeting on Sept. 5.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

My cousin, Jack Bickett, flung up his head in the fashion of a roweled colt. I had startled him, but I had done more than that; I had opened the door of a darkened room and let in the light.

"Look here!" he said sharply. "You know something about this business, and you've got to tell me what it is."

"It is too risky," Jack," I said softly. "Those two men and the professor know about the errand from which we are returning. We should be where no other ears can possibly glean a single syllable."

Jack Pleads For a Clue.

He was silent almost a half minute, then gave an expressive shrug of his shoulders.

"I suppose you are right." he said blumly. "But can't you give me some starting point? I am sure, knowing your facial expressions so well—you haven't changed much with the years, Margaret that you have something in mind."

"If I give you a lead, will you promise to keep your voice down to a whisper in answering me?" I asked.

He gave me a long, speculative glance.

"It must be dynamite," he said.

"It is," I agreed, and paused an instant before I brought my thought out into the open.

"You might begin with Ruth Hayes," I said.

"Ruth Hayes!" he repeated in a whisper. "What do you know of her?"

"Plenty," I returned laconically.

"Does — does Katherine share your knowledge?"

"She does, indeed," I answered.

"You mean—" he began, then altered his query abruptly.

'She has dared to write either of you?"

"This is the last question I shall answer until we are alone," I said, "so please govern yourself accordingly. Yes, Ruth Hayes wrote a long letter to Katherine over a year ago."

"D--n her!"

The oath was all the more explosive for being uttered in a whisper, and I saw that his fingernails were clenched fiercely into his palms. But he bowed to my ultimatum and asked but one more question.

Jack Agrees To Help.

"When can you tell me all about this?"

"I do not know," I said. "That depends upon my father. I must report to him about what has happened, and turn over to him the six gangsters in the other car. I know too that, almost before anything else, Father will, wish to talk to you and Professor Diswell."

"That last won't be necessary," Jack said quickly. "Your father would learn nothing, and the poor old chap would be upset. I came to him for sanctuary, to give me time to finish a certain piece of work with his help. Fortunately it is finished, and I don't need him any more. But he doesn't know a thing that I don't know, and he'd only be taking up your father's time."

"If Father can talk to you freely, he probably won't wish to disturb Professor Diswell at all," I said, and his response was prompt.

"He can talk to me as much as he wishes, provided he doesn't keep me too long," he said. Then Gus put a period to his sentence by calling back to me:

"Missis Graham! We're coming up to Branchman' s now."

Murder On the Avenue

By Carolyn Wells

(Copyright, 1942.)

CHAPTER XI

Raynor did not think it advisable to tell Dickson that he had already heard all this from Linda herself, and he felt sure that Foo Chow's suspicion of Lihda as a murderess was a flight of imagination brought about by the Chinese's knowledge that Mrs. McCleod's death would give Linda a big legacy, on which marital happiness might be founded.

* * *

But, as he thought it over, he wondered whether Foo Chow's suspicion of Linda was more absurd than Dickson's hints about Murray.

Even supposing Alma had thought it over and had told Murray she would not give him the money, supposing they had been up there in the coat room, and he had become very angry at her, he would scarcely dare murder her then and there, with a house full of people running through the rooms at will.

And to kill her, would cut off all possible chance of further investments on her part. He said:

"It doesn't seem to me, Dickson, that Murray would have a motive for killing Mrs. McCleod. Unless he had already swindled her badly, and was afraid she would expose him."

"I don't know as to that, sir. And I have no right to speak so personally of my mistress. But she was that kind and sociable like with Linda; we both felt sorry to see her get into the clutches of that Mr. Murray. He doesn't seem like one of the crowd who mostly come here, and if you would look into the matter, you'd doubtless find out all about him."

"Yes, and I will do so, Dickson. I'm glad you told me this, but better not talk of it to anyone else. You may go now, but keep a still tongue in your head. Much trouble is caused by talking."

"Yes, sir, that is true. But I suppose you will find out who it was that killed her."

"Yes, Dickson, we will positively find that out."

Raynor looked at the man sharply, but saw no shadow of fear in his eyes.

* * *

The days after Alma's funeral Captain Raynor went to see the bereaved husband. Hugh was disinclined to see him, but he couldn't very well refuse, so he received his caller in a small reception room.

"I'm sorry to disturb you," Raynor said, "but there are a few things I want to speak of, and I may not have to trouble you again."

"Very well," Hugh said, wearily, as though he dreaded a return to the subject. He looked several years older, and he seemed to have lost his dignity and pride.

"You have had no further information?" Raynor said gently.

"No. I've learned nothing."

"Have you seen your lawyers yet?"

"No; but I'm expecting Mr. Chadwick this afternoon. He'll be here any minute. Can you ask him what you want to know?"

"Why, yes. Have you learned if Mrs. McCleod left a will?"

"Yes, I think she did. But I have no idea of its contents."

"Will your lawyer know?"

"Oh, yes; Chadwick, the senior member of the firm, is my lawyer; Wade, the junior, was Alma's advisor. But Chadwick can tell you all."

"Mrs. McCleod had her own fortune, then?"

"That's not quite the way to put it. She liked the fun of drawing her own checks, so I let her have a bank account, and when it ran low, I added to it. But it never amounted to much. I paid all her bills. The account merely amused her. How does it interest you?"

"We are looking into matters pretty thoroughly. We found one more small article, which may be a clue. Will you look at it?"

* * *

Raynor took from his pocket and offered Hugh a small coin.

As he took it, Hugh's sad face relaxed into a tender smile.

"Where did you find this?" he asked.

"On the couch, after Mrs. McCleod was taken away. It was hers, then?"

Raynor seemed a little disappointed, as Hugh went on.

"Yes; it was one of her dearly loved possessions, as it had been one of mine. It is an old Scotch coin, a plack. It is of almost no value. But my father gave it to me when I was a small child, and as it was the first money I ever owned, I never spent it, I called it my lucky piece, and I invariably carried it with me, until—until I married. When I showed it to Alma, and told her its history, nothing would do but I must give it to her. I didn't mind. I would have given her anything in my power. She vowed she would carry it with her always. She did, to my certain knowledge. When in evening dress, she carried it in a little gold mesh bag. Tell me, did you find the little gold bag? This must have fallen out of it?"

"Yes, the bag was there, too."

"May I have it? Anything of my wife's is doubly dear to me now. And I have had that coin ever since I was five years old."

"You may have it, of course. But just now, I must keep it."

"Is it a clue? I haven't heard much about clues. I thought they were of utmost importance in an investigation."

"Yes, they are, if they are real clues, that point to the criminal. But this—plack, do you call it?—is of no use that way."

"Have you any clues that are of importance? I want you to find the man who did this thing." McCleod did not speak angrily, but with an air of determination.

"Oh, we'll get him," Raynor promised. "He cannot get away from us."

"Why can't he? How are you going to find him?"

"Mr. McCleod, do you think it was one of the young men belonging to what your wife called her crowd?"

"I don't see how I can think anything else. The older people who were here were all my friends. Not one of them would have the least reason or wish to kill my wife!"

"No, of course not. But there is a chance of some stranger having come into the house, secretly, and hidden himself somewhere in your apartment."

"No. This house is too well managed for that to happen. There is always a detective on guard—"

"It is improbable. And as to the servants? I don't mean your own people, but weren't there outsiders here? The caterer's men, or other extra people?"

"Yes, I suppose there were such. But they would have no reason for ill-feeling toward Alma or myself. Nor would any of those men be upstairs. No supper was served upstairs."

"Is it possible that your wife had acquaintances that you do not know about. Have you never thought or imagined that there might be some secret—"

"Don't! Don't! I cannot bear it. Such a thing cannot be!"

* * *

The astute detective took this speech at its opposite intent, and concluded he had hit on the truth. He had heard the vaguest hints that led to a belief of some dark chapter in Alma's past, that Hugh knew about, but was unwilling to recognize.

He dropped the subject and, looking at his notebook, he said:

"I should like to meet your sister, Miss Emmy McCleod. I shall not bother her in any way, but as a member of your family I want to make her acquaintance. May I go to her apartment?"

Hugh hesitated, then he said: "Not that, I think. My father is very ill. But if you want to speak to Emmy, she will come down here, and I will take her place at my father's bedside."

"Very well, Mr. McCleod, please do so. It will be a short interview, and then, you will be expecting your lawyer."

"Yes, yes. I will ask Emmy to come down here."

Raynor, a little surprised that he had accomplished his wish so easily, was deep in thought when he heard a loud voice say, "Good morning, Captain Raynor. I understand you want to talk to me."

He sprang to his feet, and faced a tall, large woman, whom he mentally classed as a Grenadier.

"Miss McCleod?" he said. "I am glad to see you. May I be allowed to express by sympathy in your sorrow?"

* * *

Emmy McCleod's face would have been handsome, but for the expression it now wore. She looked coldly scornful, and said, in a hard voice:

"Save your sympathy for my brother. I do not need it. My brother's wife meant little to me."

"But you surely are grieved at her untimely and unseemly death!"

"No; except in so far as I grieve for my brother. But he will be far better off without her. He does not realize this now, of course, but he will—he must. Now, tell me plainly, Captain Raynor, are you going to find the brute who killed Hugh's wife?"

USE THE INFORMATION

IF YOU have reached a high No Trump contract without giving any information of consequence about your cards to the opponents, and one of them doubles, it will ordinarily pay you to employ every resource to avoid finessing toward him. Unless you have promising ways to try to set up a suit, or a fineses or two which can be taken toward his partner, you probably will profit from trying to build a squeeze or lead-throwing end-play against the doubler.

That terrific jump to slam was by Henry C. Meyer III, of New York's Union League club, who then proceeded to make his contract by throwing South into the lead at the right time. He took the heart Q with the K, ran five diamonds and three spades and, when the latter suit failed to divide evenly, played to the heart A and then led the 9, discarding the club 2 and putting South on lead with the heart J. South now had to lead from his club K-J up to the A-Q.

The same contract could have been made by a squeeze if he had been willing to give up the club 2 to the second trick and then run his set-up spades and diamonds, if he could have depended on South not to return another heart and take the A away as an entry to dummy. But South could not have been depended upon to do that, and consequently that effort would have failed.

John F. Jameson, former superintendent of the Holmes county schools, and Charles D. Groff, present Holmes county commissioner, are the latest aspirants to take out petitions for county offices.

Jameson will seek the nomination for county auditor and Groff, county commissioner. The latter was appointed to his present office when C. C. Lower died during his term of office. Both nominees are candidates.

Jameson's announcement seeking the nomination for county auditor furnishes the first race of the 1942 election. H. E. Gray, incumbent has taken out a petition for his re-election.

tection before a priority request would be granted.

The dispatch from the Associated Press said that the War Production board is "usually tough on expanding facilities unless an absolute need is shown for the equipment."

The News-Journal was also informed that the priority request must be approved not only by the government requirements branch but also by the fire equipment branch which tabulates supplies of city's against their needs.

If the request is approved, the city would be given a priorities order to forward to the Seagrave company but, according to the Associated Press, the decision on a priority request usually takes several days.

The city board of control, composed of Locke and Wolff, awarded the contract to the Seagrave company which entered a bid of $9,950.

The contract was awarded within an hour after an attack by Councilman Fred Miller on the administration delay had appeared in The Mansfield News-Journal.

In awarding the contract, the board showed a preference for a seven-man cab and virtually eliminated the bid of the Mack company which had offered a bid only on a three-man cab due to what the mayor said was "misunderstanding." The Mack company's net bid of $9,524 on a three-man cab was the lowest offered.

Urges Torpedo Boats To End Sub Menace

WASHINGTON—(U P)— Senator James M Mead (D., N. Y.) today urged the navy to consider use of a large fleet of torpedo boats and sub chasers as a means of "ending the Atlantic coast submarine menace within 60 to 90 days."

Recently returned from an inspection tour of Gulf coast shipyards, Mead said in an interview that he is convinced the swift and deadly craft "present the answer" to Axis marauders which have taken a heavy toll of United Nations shipping in hemisphere waters.

Mead, recalling the daring exploits of Lieut. John D. Bulkeley, whose tiny PT squadron sank seven Japanese warships and merchant vessels before the fall of Corregidor, said that if the naval hero's recital of his feat "is the testimony of experience—and we know it is—then a huge mosquito fleet will stop the submarine menace."

MANSFIELD BUSINESS IN REVIEW

UNITED STATES PUTS FEW BANS ON PHOTO FANS

Common-Sense Urged as Only Restriction on Camera Enthusiasts.

Mansfield residents wishing to take photographs during their summer vacation this year will find very few restrictions against picture-taking if they remain inside the United States—that is if they exercise common sense.

Buell-Kraft Studio, 48 West Third street, photographers and suppliers of all needs of photography, are urging Mansfielders to continue their enjoyment of photography but to use common sense.

Byron Price, director of federal wartime censorship, recently announced: "The government has no intention of discouraging picture taking, but there are many good photographic subjects besides fortifications, airports, troop transports and equipment of armed forces."

Camera enthusiasts going out of the country will find that unexposed film cannot be taken out of the U. S. except to Canada, that exposed but undeveloped films cannot be removed except to Canada, that travelers entering the U. S. must turn over exposed films for development at designated depots by customs officials and that unexposed films cannot be imported except from Canada.

NORTON'S SHOE REPAIR SERVICE

Mansfield Shoe Craftsman Introduces Modern Techniques Into Shoe Repairing

Norton Owns Replicas of Sandals Made for Duchess.

Shoes for a modern Cinderella! Tucked away on a shelf in the workroom of the repair shop of W. F. Norton at 46 West Third street, is a pair of palmetto sandals, exact replicas of a pair made for the Duchess of Windsor.

Creator of these sandals is Mr. Norton himself, who has been a shoe repairman for 34 years, starting in his father's shop when he was but eight years old. Mr. Norton has worked at his craft in Mansfield since 1930.

The Duchess of Windsor sandals were made for Mrs. Norton when Mr. Norton was studying the art of shoe building and fitting in the shop of Edmund Venor in West Palm Beach, Fla., during last winter.

Mr. Venor is hailed by fellow shoe repairmen as one of the leaders in his craft and has made shoes for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor as well as for other persons all over the country. But more about Mr. Venor later.

Coming from a family of repairmen, being the third generation to assume the craft, Norton worked for more than 20 years in various shoe repair shops throughout the Midwest, before starting his own shop here.

In this manner, he got an insight into the different techniques used and blended them into a style of his own. But the idea of trying to turn out commendable work with nails and leather palled him.

Starts Own Shop.

In 1930, the use of cement for shoe repair started to develop. Norton, who was growing tired of the nail and hammer methods, started his own establishment and began selling his ideas.

From the very beginning, he offered "invisible repairing," giving his customers a repair job which was hard to distinguish from the sole carried on their shoes when they first bought them.

Invisible re-soling eliminated that "patched look," that ridge of nails and leather across the bottom of the arch. People who had preferred to throw away shoes with worn-out soles began to bring them to Norton.

Mr. Norton went to West Palm Beach, in January, 1942, to take a vacation. He intended to take a rest but found himself within a week working in the shop of Edmund Venor and gaining as always, new ideas on shoe building.

"That's the way I like it," says Norton. "Shoe repairmen should keep up-to-date on shoe styles and repair methods. The woman of today would laugh at the shoe repairing of 20 years ago. Yet hundreds of shoe repairmen fix shoes in the same manner they have all their lives. That's what I wanted to get away from."

Venor, the man who taught Norton so much during his winter vacation, was because of his international fame called upon by the Duke and Duchess of Windsor when they first arrived at the Bahamas to make their shoes.

Four pairs of shoes were made at first for the duke who is bothered with foot trouble. Then because of the excellence of his work, Venor was asked to make a special pair of sandals for the duchess, one of the ten best dressed women in the world.

Background on the eminence of Venor in the footwear field, is supplied from the following adaptation from "The Shoe Repairer and Dealings Finder," trade magazine.

Makes Duchess Sandals.

Venor turned out a palmetto creation which prompted the duchess to mail him a sizeable check immediately and to order more shoes. Venor endorsed the check and returned it to the duchess with the request that it be used for one of the British war relief societies.

Mr. Venor is perhaps proudest of his "foot-breathing" sandal. Each pair is made to measure and so fashioned as to allow the foot to retain its normal shape.

Norton learned many fundamentals of shoe fitting which he had been adapting during his many years of work in the shoe repair business.

One of his greatest concerns is the disregard which most persons have for their work shoes.

"After all a man's work shoe is the one he wears most of the time," says Norton. "It has to be good. If a man's feet suffer, both he and his work will also suffer. Almost half of our trade is in repairing work shoes."

The impact of the war has been to increase business, Norton says, because hundreds of Mansfielders are taking up walking for exercise and for their patriotic duty. And when people walk, shoes will wear. And when shoes wear there's need for repair.

Norton, proprietor of the shop, has maintained a shoe repair shop in Mansfield for 12 years and is one of the leading craftsmen in the city. Credit Regulation Seen as Check on Rise In War Prices

Regulation of consumer credit during this war period is essential and is intended to check inflation and to conserve purchasing power of the consuming public for peacetime use.

But when the war is over, consumer credit will play a vital role in post-war economy. Personal finance occupies an important position in this economy and the companies now engaged in this business are exercising an exceptional cooperative spirit with our government.

The Mansfield Provident company, the city's oldest personal loan company, is urging all residents to reduce their debts and to purchase war bonds as a means of stamping out our enemies.

Newspapers Owe Illustrations to Photo-Engraving

Photo-engraving is a powerful social, cultural and economic influence. A better understanding of its production and use must prove of general benefit.

Cliff D. Sherrard and Philip Dickerson, operators of the Mansfield Photo Engraving company at 127 North Walnut street have issued a constant invitation to all Mansfielders to visit their plant to understand this ingenious process which brings them to pictures they see in newspapers and magazines.

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

There's a 75 buck side bet riding on scores to be turned in tomorrow in the Colony bowling alleys singles and doubles tournament, with two of the state's best bowlers laying it on the line.

The keglers are Hank Andorka, operator of the Andorka alleys in Lorain where the recent Inter-City tournament was held, and Walter Wellman, the very tough Bucyrus mineralite manipulator.

They're splitting up the wager with $25 on singles, $25 on doubles, and $25 on all-events. Wellman is scheduled to roll at 3 p. m. Sunday, and Andorka at 7.

* * *

You hear it so often in the bowling alley gallery that it gets to be a common remark: "That guy's going to be a bowler some day. This is only his first year, or second year, or third year, and look at him go."

That kind of a bowler is leading the singles and doubles tourney on the Colony lanes today. He's H. Atkinson of Lima, who is in his second year of kegling.

* * *

Atkinson tops the singles marks with 644, and shares the doubles lead with E. Garrett of Lima at 1248, having contributed a 581 to the latter score, for an all-events of 1225. You don't find these second-year bowlers in scratch tournaments very often.

* * *

If you're a grade-A bowler and want to stay healthy, see to it that someone else is elected captain.

It appears right now that the captains of the Detroit Stroh's Bohemian Beers and Bissman Birdie Brands will not be in the lineup when these two teams tangle in an exhibition match at Colony alleys tonight.

They've both run into the captain jinx.

* * *

Joe Norris, captain of the Stroh's, and No. 1 All-American in Mort Luby's selections for 1940 and 1941, had the hex put on him in mid-season when he was forced to undergo an appendectomy.

And now he's got a bum leg, reported to be an aftermath of his operation, although I do not know how he gets his leg tangled up with his appendix.

Art Hilborn has been stumbling about with a bum back for more than a month now, and is reported in no mood for flinging the big apple. Seems I've heard the word "lumbago" mentioned.

* * *

Oh, captain, my captain,
Our fearful trip is done,
You've got your appendix out,
My back is on the bum.

Dodgers Have Flag Raising

All Prepared to Keep It There For 1942.

By JUDSON BAILEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

THE Brooklyn Dodgers are planning to raise their big white 1941 National league pennant on the centerfield flagpole at Ebbets Field today with suitable ceremonies.

* * *

And if somebody says something about keeping the flag there and just changing the numerals for next season, the remark hardly would be amiss.

* * *

For the Dodgers now are four full games in front and apparently getting stronger day by day. They walloped the Pittsburgh Pirates so hard yesterday the Buccaneers fell out of second place. The score was 8-3.

Whitlow Wyatt went the route and acquired his second victory without a defeat. It was Brooklyn's sixth conquest in seven games.

Pittsburgh's second straight pounding by the Dodgers coincided with the Boston Braves' 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals and enabled Boston to squeeze into second place by a half game. It was the sixth success in eight games for the Braves.

Perhaps an even greater thud was that of the Cincinnati Reds, who were fourth a couple of days ago and today were pushed back to seventh place. They received an unmerciful pounding, and Ray Starr absorbed his first defeat of the season at the hands of the New York Giants, 13-5. Rookie Willard Marshall hit two homers and two singles to drive in six tallies personally and Manager Mel Ott also hit one home run and made four hits.

* * *

In the day's only other encounter, the Chicago Cubs beat the Philadelphia Phils 2-1, although Claude Passeau gave up nine hits to the five the Bruins made off Tommy Hughes. Passeau himself hit a homer to account for one of Chicago's runs.

* * *

The entire American league was kept idle by weather.

The Cleveland Indians opened their busiest week-end of the season with a doubleheader against Washington today. The Philadelphia Athletics meet the Tribe in another twin bill tomorrow.

Both Cleveland and Washington have had a two-day lay-off because of the weather.

* * *

Manager Lou Boudreau, with a full corps of 18 pitchers to choose from, stuck to Al Smith for the first game. Mel Harder was named for the second contest.

* * *

Early Winn and Sid Hudson got the Washington call.

Former Major Leaguers Hit

Hog Batting Show In American Association.

CHICAGO —(AP)— Four ex-major leaguers were hogging the batting show of the American Association in averages computed up to Thursday noon.

* * *

Leading the hitters was Phil Weinthraub, St. Paul first baseman who has seen service with several major league clubs. He has pounded out 31 hits in 71 trips to establish a .397 average.

* * *

Another former big topper, Hub Walker of Indianapolis, was first in home runs with 10 and total bases with 62, and a third, Johnny McCarthy of Indianapolis, topped the league in runs batted in with 30, and in triples with four.

Jake Powell, an ex-American leaguer who roams the Indianapolis outfield, shared the doubles lead with Milt Byrnes of Toledo and Ed Starky of Milwaukee. Each had 10.

* * *

Russ Meers of Milwaukee and George Munger of Columbus shared the pitching lead, each with five runs and no defeats.

* * *

Milwaukee paced the team batting department with .277, followed by Minneapolis with .272 and Indianapolis with .265. Best fielding team was Toledo with .980, with Kansas City and St. Paul tied at .970.

IOWA ROUTS BUCKS IN BASEBALL GAME

CHICAGO—(AP)—Iowa kept its Big Ten baseball championship hopes alive yesterday with a 10-1 rout of Ohio State while Indiana eked out a 2-1 victory over Minnesota.

Other scheduled games—Michigan at Illinois, Purdue at Northwestern and Wisconsin at Chicago—were postponed because of the weather. They were to be played as doubleheaders today if conditions permitted. Iowa was to complete its series against Ohio State and Indiana was to end its series with Minnesota in other games today.

TRAVEL IN CABS

OXFORD — (INS) — Conquering the elements, Miami university's baseball team made the 130 mile trek to Delaware for their game with Ohio Wesleyan in taxicabs. Unavailability of buses and conserving private car owners necessitated the jaunt in such fashion.

HANK GREENBERG JOINS AIR CORPS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—(AP)—Sergeant Hank Greenberg, former Detroit baseball slugger, has enrolled in the Army Air Corps Officers' Candidate Training school here, where he will seek a lieutenant's commission. Drafted a year ago, Greenberg was released from the army Dec. 5 under the 28-year-old age rule, but re-enlisted three days after the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Buckeyes Rate As Favorites

Dominate Prelims In Big Ten Track Meet.

By TOMMY DEVINE

EVANSTON, Ill. — (U.P.) — Ohio State, often a contender but never a winner in the Big Ten outdoor track meet, rates as a top-heavy favorite to win its initial conference crown today.

* * *

The Bucks great team balance far over-shadowed that of any rival. They were doped to score approximately 60 points, which would give them the championship by a comfortable margin.

* * *

In the preliminaries yesterday, Ohio State dominated the six events in which trials were held. Its performers won eight qualifying heats and took 13 qualifying places, Illinois compiled the next best record by qualifying eight men. Then came Michigan with seven; Minnesota, five, Indiana and Iowa, four each; Wisconsin, three, and Purdue, one. Northwestern and Chicago failed to qualify a man.

Preliminaries in the field events were postponed because of weather. Track conditions resulted in slow times in all events.

Bob Wright, winner of both the 120-yard high and the 220-yard low hurdles a year ago, led Ohio State in the preliminaries by winning his qualifying heat in the highs in 14.9 seconds and placing second to Henry Vollenwider, of Iowa, whose time in the lows was 23.7 seconds. Wright also was second to his teammate, Ralph Hammond, who was timed in the 100-yard dash at 9.9 seconds.

* * *

Wright is one of the four champions who will defend titles today. T he others are Campbell Kane, of Indiana, in the 880 and one mile runs; Jack Defield, of Minnesota, in the pole vault, and Don Smith, of Northwestern, in the high jump.

* * *

Kane jogged to qualify in the 880. In the slowest heat of the day, he was timed at 2:02.2, considerably off from his own conference record of 1:51.13. Bob Rehberg, of Illinois, a heat winner in 1:58.5 and Dave Matthew, of Michigan, who won his trial in 1:59.3, are expected to furnish Kane's greatest competition.

While Ohio State virtually was conceded the team title, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan promised a bitter fight for second place.

* * *

Sharing attention with the trackmen were Big Ten athletic directors and faculty representatives who will conclude a two-day discussion of war born problems.

* * *

In lengthy sessions yesterday the conference executives held round-table talks about ways in which Big Ten members may make a direct financial contribution to the nation's war chest. They also heard a proposal, which probably will be accepted today, to set a Sept. 1 date for the start of football practice.

Doerr Retains Stick Leadership

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— Second-baseman Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox retained his major league hitting lead for the second consecutive week with a mark of .425, according to official averages released today.

* * *

The American league slugger topped Danny Murtaugh, best in the National league, by 84 percentage points. Murtaugh, second baseman for the Philadelphia Phils, led the senior circuit for the second straight week ith a mark of .341. The averages include games played last Thursday.

* * *

Outfielder Stan Spence of the Washington Senators remained 20 points behind Doerr with an average of .405.

Ernie Bonham of the New York Yankees and Ed Head of the Brooklyn Dodgers tied for the pitching honors with four triumphs and no defeats.

Wildcats Drive To Tennis Title

COLUMBUS —(INS)— A heavily favored Northwestern tennis team moved closer to their goal of a Western conference title as Big Ten meet swung into its final stages today. The Wildcats already have amessed 11 points, with a potential eight more today, with Chicago as their nearest rivals with 10.

* * *

Michigan enjoyed the rating of dark-horse with nine already accredited points and a possible nine more in today's finals of the singles, and the semi-finals and finals of the doubles.

* * *

Other scores: Illinois 7, Minnesota and Purdue 3, Ohio State 2, and Wisconsin 0.

Hits Deck But Retains Crown

Angott Gets Unpopular Decision Over Stolz.

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Lightweight Champion Sammy Angott, the "modern Greb" who does everything wrong and always wins, welcomes a return match with young Allie Stolz, the classy New Jersey holter who floored him and almost lifted his crown last night in jammed Madison Square Garden.

Promoter Mike Jacobs is expected to announce the return date today.

* * *

Angott, a bull-shouldered, hair-chested, Italian from Washington, Pa., retained his title by a split 15 round decision that was unpopular, the fans shook the Garden girders with bellows of protest and threw newspapers, hats and cigar butts into the ring.

* * *

Brown-haired, streamlined Stolz, probably would be the brand new lightweight champion of the world today had he not become careless in the stretch drive and been penalized for low blows in the 12th and 14th rounds.

Nevertheless, Stolz—who went into the ring a 2-1 underdog in the betting—made an unexpectedly robust bid for the title in the grandest lightweight battle New York has witnessed in years. Artful Allie completely captivated the huge crowd of 16,099 cash customers, 2,000 free-admission service men, and more than 600 "deadheads."

The challenger's brilliant boxing won the referee, Frankie Fullam, who voted Stolz the victor on the basis of nine rounds for Allie, five for Angott and one even. However, the two judges—George Lecron and John Potter—balloted in unison; eight rounds for the champion, six for Stolz and one even.

* * *

The fans were electrified in the third round when Stolz smashed the champion to the canvas.

* * *

This knockdown, one of the few in the champion's string of more than 100 professional battles, was completely unexpected. Angott of the armor-plated chin who never had been kayoed or stopped, won the first two rounds with his steaming attack.

But at two minutes and three seconds of the third round, Angott charged in. There were two explosions on the point of his chin from a right uppercut and an almost simultaneous left hook. He lurched backwards and landed in a sitting posture on the canvas. He was hurt—stunned, momentarily.

* * *

But the mind of the clean-living champion cleared in a flash and he took the full nine-count, as all smart fighters do. He rose, in good condition, and before the bell sounded, was carrying the fight to his challenger.

* * *

That was the lone knockdown of the fight.

It was a see-saw battle in which Stolz came on to take the fourth round and add the fifth on Angott foul for low blows. They fought on even terms in the sixth. Then the champion's aggressiveness clicked off the seventh, eighth and ninth. Stolz rallied to take the 10th and 11th, but he lost the next three on fouls in the 12th and 14th and lethargy in the 13th. The 15th was even.

PROVIDENTS BOOKED FOR DOUBLE-HEADER

Mansfield Provident Loan girls tackle what looms as the toughest assignment of the early season schedule tomorrow afternoon at North Lake Park when the state softball champs meet the J. & K. Shoes of Columbus in a double-header.

Fran Knapp will hurl the first game for the Providents, and Iceman will take the mound in the nightcap. Manager "Doc" Daugherty announced the first game would start promptly at 2 o'clock.

PLAYER OPTIONED

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — The Cincinnati Reds announced today the release on option of Ewell Blackwell, young rookie right-hander, to the Syracuse International League club, thus trimming their roster to 24 players, one under the limit.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(Wide World)—Minnesota unveils its football team, without Bernie Bierman, before the public today and from all reports it's about as good as ever. . . . The team's powerhouse is Bill Daley, who is only 15 pounds heavier than Bruce Smith and just as fast. . . . Alice Marble should have plenty of experience for her new job as chairman of the sports division of the Camp Fire Girls donut drive. . . . Remember how she used to hang those sinkers on the scoreboard—6-0, 6-0, etc. . . . After engineering that three-ply killing at the Polo Grounds the other day, Connie Ryan solemnly remarked: "That's the first triple play I ever saw."

* * *

TODAY'S GUEST STAR.

SPORTSMENTION.

Bill Mahoney, Notre Dame's youthful track coach who has just been commissioned as a navy ensign, takes his team to West Point for a meet with Army today, then reports for duty at Annapolis Tuesday. . . . Scouting, eh? . . . Story from the midwest is that Fritz Crisler won't get that Great Lakes Naval Training Station coaching job because Michigan likes his physical hardening program so well that strings are being pulled to keep him there. . . . Stutz Modzlewski, the Rhode Island basketballer, has made his name officially Stanley John Stutz. . . . Washington sports fans will throw a testimonial dinner to Clark Griffith May 27. . . . And if what they say about that "green light" letter is true, baseball men should all turn out.

GAMES POSTPONED

DAYTON — (AP) — Two doubleheaders were scheduled for Sunday in the Mid-Atlantic league after all games were postponed because of the weather yesterday for the second successive day.

Sunday doubleheaders slated were Canton at Zanesville and Springfield at Erie.

HONOR IRISH GRIDDER

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — (AP) — Funds are being collected on the Notre Dame campus to erect a plaque in memory of Howard Petschel, sophomore end in 1939, who was killed in the Pacific war zone. Petschel was in the air corps.

Conference Votes Frosh

Double-Header Cage Games Approved.

OBERLIN—(AP)—The Ohio conference will offer two innovations next fall—freshmen on varsity athletic teams and "double feature" basketball contests.

Athletic directors and faculty representatives of the 20 college league vote last night to suspend for the duration of the war rules barring freshmen from participating in varsity sports and forbidding high school games as preliminaries to conference cage events.

* * *

The regulations continued to provide that students transferring from one school to another wait a year before participating in intercollegiate sports, unless the first school was closed by war conditions.

* * *

All athletes will be limited to three full years of competition on varsity teams as in the past.

The conference failed to retain a ban on recruiting new students under penalty of suspension. A substitute, introduced by Dr. J. H. Nichols of Oberlin college and accepted by the group, provided that all prospective students from various high schools should be treated without favoritism or discrimination. The new rule specifically forbids giving athletes special employment.

A committee on athletics was directed to study the results of schools using freshmen in athletics. It was suggested that a check of scholastic standards of freshmen athletes be made every two weeks and that those found slipping be removed from the athletic rosters.

George Daniel of Lorain was re-elected conference athletic commissioner.

* * *

The freshman rule, effective since the conference was formed 40 years ago, was lifted in 1918 during the first World war because, as now, student bodies were depleted and some schools were forced to drop intercollegiate sports. Ashland college has eliminated conference athletic competition for the duration.

The Illinois conference also voted last night to suspend the freshman rule and similar action was taken by the Eastern (Ivy) league and the Missouri valley circuit some time ago.

'DEM BUMS' HAVE LI'L BABY BROTHER

VALDOSTA, Ga.—(AP)—"Dem Bums" from Brooklyn have a baby brother down south.

The Valdosta baseball team of the Georgia-Florida league, guided by the Brooklyn Dodgers, has swept to first place in the early weeks of the 1942 campaign.

Managed by Catcher Stu Hofferth, down from the Dodgers, the club has done so blooming well that fans call them "the Baby Bums."

Simpson Wins Meet Handily

Swamps Sandusky In Telegraphic Event.

John Simpson junior high school's surprising young athletes swamped Sandusky in a telegraphic track meet yesterday 84 1-3 to 15 2-3.

* * *

Simpson took 10 firsts in the 12 events, Damanti winning both the shot put and discus for Sandusky.

* * *

Exceptionally fine performances were turned in by Franks in the broad jump with a leap of 18-7, Baurer with 10.6 in the 100 yard dash, Zivkoff in the 120 yard hurdles in 14.5, Cline, a seventh grader, with a pole vault of 9-3, Thomas, another seventh grader, with a 43.3 shot put, and Langford, an 8th grader, with a 5-1 high jump.

One of the most unusual business ventures in the nation is that of Mrs. Nan Songer of Yucaipa, Cal., who furnishes silk for manufacturers of aerial bomb sights and telescope sights, from her "spider farm." The spiders are kept in glass jars and are occasionally removed, and firmly but gently held, while their silk is spun off on a wire frame, resembling a big hair pin. Twelve such frames hold 100 feet of silk, an hour's yield from one spider.

Jodhpurs are increasing in popularity with the active, outdoor woman, because they are practical, "dressy," and quite inexpensive, at Yunckers. They are smartly tailored, of attractive materials, and are available in green, tan and brown, and are priced at $2.95 and $5.95.

Here is an idea that originated with J. Keith Fraser, of Merriam, Kansas, that seems very much worthwhile. It's called the victory match campaign to prevent forest fires caused by carelessness with matches. And it's as simple as this: Break every match you use in the woods, into a V before you toss it aside, and you may save a forest. Because if you take time to break the match into that important V, you can also be sure that it will be out when thrown away.

Jackets Pace Track Meet

Baldwin-Wallace Has Seven Qualifiers.

OBERLIN — (AP) — Baldwin-Wallace college, qualifying seven men, paced the field into the finals of the 40th annual Ohio conference track and field meet today.

Harvey Albert, Baldwin-Wallace star, qualified for the finals in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and the 120-yard high hurdles, while a teammate, Robert Stroemple, won the right to compete in the 220 and 440-yard dash events. Oberlin had a triple qualifier in Robert Orebaugh, finalist in the 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes.

* * *

Denison, Oberlin and Case qualified four men each in Friday's preliminaries. Bowling Green and Toledo sent three men each into the finals, and Kent qualified two. Wooster, Otterbein, Mt. Union, Muskingum and Capital each had one qualifier.

* * *

Oberlin's four-man golf team shot 660 for 36 holes to win the links title from Toledo university. The defending champs carded 717 for third place. Denison repeated as runnerup with 695.

ORDINANCE NO. 185

An ordinance providing for the issuing of bonds of the Village of Lucas, Richland County, Ohio, for the purpose of the improvement of the general water works, including water mains and connections.

Whereas, at an election held on the fourth day of November, 1941, on the proposition of issuing bonds of the Village of Lucas, Richland County, Ohio, for the purpose hereinafter stated in the sum of Eighteen Thousand Dollars ($18,000.00) and of the levying of a tax outside of the limitation imposed by Article XII, Section 2, of the Constitution of Ohio to pay the interest and principal of such bonds, and more than 65 per centum of those voting on the proposition voted in favor thereof, and,

Whereas, the council has requested the village clerk to issue his certificate as to the estimated life of the property, assets or improvement proposed to be acquired or constructed from the proceeds of the bonds hereinafter referred to, and the village clerk has certified to this council such estimated life as exceeding five years, and has further certified the maximum maturity of such bonds as forty years,

Whereas, the notes issued in anticipation of the issuing of the bonds hereinafter referred to are about to fall due.

Now, therefore, be it ordained by the council of the Village of Lucas, Richland County, Ohio:

Section 1. That it is deemed necessary to issue bonds of the Village of Lucas, Richland County, Ohio, in the principal sum of Seven Thousand Six Hundred Fifty Dollars ($7,650.00) in order to provide a fund for the purpose of the improvement of the general water works, including water mains and connections, and to provide a fund for the payment of not to exceed one year's interest on said bonds. That such bonds shall be issued in one lot and that anticipatory notes have been issued in anticipation of the issuing of said bonds.

Section 2. That bonds of the Village of Lucas, Richland County, Ohio, shall be issued in the principal sum of Seven Thousand Six Hundred Fifty Dollars ($7,650.00) for the purpose aforesaid. Each of said bonds shall be in the denomination of Four Hundred Fifty Dollars ($450.00) and said bonds shall be dated August 1, 1942 and shall bear interest at the rate of three per centum per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of October and the first day of April of each year until the principal sum is paid, provided, however, that if said bonds are sold, bearing a different rate of interest than heretofore specified, such bonds shall bear such rate of interest as may be provided for in the resolution of council, approving the award thereof. Said bonds shall mature as follows: the first bond shall be due and payable April 1, 1943; the second bond shall be due and payable October 1, 1943; and one bond April 1, and one bond October 1, thereafter of each year until all said bonds are paid, which maturities are hereby determined to be in substantial equal semi-annually installments.

The principal and interest of all of said bonds shall be payable at the office of the Lucas State Bank of the Village of Lucas, Richland County, Ohio.

Section 3. That said bonds shall express upon their face the purpose for which they are issued, that they are issued in pursuance of this ordinance, and shall be signed by the Mayor and Clerk and sealed with the corporate seal of said village. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall bear the facsmile signature of the village clerk. Said bonds shall bear such consecutive numbers as the village clerk shall determine.

Section 4. That for the purpose of providing the necessary funds to pay the interest on the foregoing issue of bonds, promptly when, and as the same falls due and also to provide a fund sufficient to discharge the said serial bonds at maturity, there shall be and is hereby levied on all the taxable property in said village of Lucas, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually during the period said bonds are to run in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay interest upon said bonds as and when the same falls due and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said serial bonds at maturity, which tax shall not be less than the interest and sinking fund tax required by Section II of Article XII of the Constitution. Said tax shall be levied outside the ten mill limitation.

Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, levied and extended upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time that taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levies hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which together with all interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and principal of said bonds when and as the same fall due.

Section 5. That said bonds shall be first offered at par and accrued interest to the Trustees of the Sinking Fund in their official capacity, and if said trustees refuse to take any or all of said bonds, then said bonds not so taken shall be advertised for public sale and sold in the manner provided by law under the direction of the Finance Committee and the Clerk, but not for less than their par value and accrued interest; the bond sale advertisement shall state that any one desiring to do so, may present a bid or bids for such bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest than hereinbefore fixed, provided, however, that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-quarter of one per cent, or multiple thereof; the amount of the bond or certified check to accompany bids shall be Seventy-Six Dollars and Fifty Cents ($76.50), and being not less than 1% of the amount of bonds to be sold, the proceeds from the sale of said bonds, except the premium and accrued interest thereon and the amount of said bonds issued for interest, shall be used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose; the premium and accrued interest received from such sale and the amount of said bonds issued for interest shall be transferred to the Sinking Fund to be applied in the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds in the manner provided by law.

Section 6. The Clerk is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.

Section 7. That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed May 7, 1942.
Attest:
L. V. SNIDER,
Clerk of Council.
ARTHUR H. DARLING,
Mayor.
VAN C. COOK,
Attorney.

STOUGH NAMED

Mansfielder To Be Chairman of Salvage Committee.

Carl Stough, 601 Grant street, assistant county maintenance supervisor, today was chosen to head the salvage campaign which will get under way in a few days in the county.

Appointed by Ray Hout, county civilian defense chairman, Stough will name a committee member in each of the county's 18 townships to handle the collection of scrap iron, old tires, and other useful materials in the county.

Hout said details of the salvage campaign have not been completed, but he added that it will reach into every corner of the county in a move to round up all the junk materials that can be used in the nation's war program.

2—Card of Thanks

I WISH to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all the relatives, friends and neighbors for their kindness shown me during the death of my beloved husband, John Rittinger, Jr. To Msgr. Goebel, to the Geiger Funeral Home, to those who sent flowers and to any others who assisted in any way.
MRS. HELEN RITTINGER. (C-K)

WITH REGARD TO A CARD OF THANKS

Very often a Card of Thanks in The News-Journal meets a need which can hardly be solved in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes, but also courteously acknowledges the service and kindness of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed, or whose names or addresses are not known.

A "Card of Thanks" can now be arranged by telephone: Dial 4251-6 ask for Miss Lane or Miss Stone either will be glad to render whatever service and advice you need

MAKES NEEDLES

MEREDITH, N. H.—(U.P.)—About 70 per cent of the knitting needles used by American Red Cross volunteers are made in the back of William Story's garage.

Employing a four-man crew in the 25x40 foot building, Story has a daily output of about 2,500 needles. Specifications demand that the needles be 10, 12 or 14 inches long, nickel-plated and lacquered.

The city of New York had a population of less than 400,000 a hundred years ago.

STOCK LEADERS BOAST SLIGHTLY HIGHER PRICES

Orders For Lumber Fall Off; Utility Holders Study Ruling by S. E. C.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Fractionally higher prices for leading stocks predominated in today's market transactions.

On the upside were Union Carbide, Chrysler, American Can, Consolidated Edison, U. S. Steel, Woolworth, Du Pont, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester and Eastern Air Lines.

The survey of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association was scanned in the search for market trend clues. For the week ended May 9 lumber production was estimated at slightly greater than in the preceding week but 4 per cent under the corresponding period a year ago. New orders were 7 per cent less than in the week before and 1 per cent below the like 1941 week.

Holders of utilities found scant comfort in the action of the SEC in denying the plea of Commonwealth & Southern for a rehearing of the commission's recent order requiring the company to recapitalize on a common stock basis. The SEC held that conditions resulting from the national war effort made it more necessary than ever for the protection of investors and customers that utility holding companies comply with the disintegration clause of the 1935 law.

FORGET FIGHTS, BROMFIELD'S PLEA TO DEMS

Author Tells Party Leaders They Have Strong Man to Beat In Bricker.

serted that "there's going to be a change in the Democratic party in Ohio whether we want it or not.

"The organization has been torn by factions and men who were more interested in who could control than electing good men to state offices," he continued. "You must forget these factional fights and nominate a man for governor as good or better than John Bricker or you won't elect a governor this year.

"The days of hoodwinking the voters is over. The only political machine left in the country that can always elect the men it wants is in Chicago. Too many politicians still think farmers are uninformed about state and national affairs but they know what's going on and are not easily fooled."

Urging the election of congressmen this fall who can see into the future of the nation and the world, Bromfield said "none of the countries of the world have attempted to find a way out of the present revolt and conflict so clearly and efficiently as the United States."

He said President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Hull, and Under-secretary Welles are "world-minded," adding that "that's very important to the nation and its future."

He said the country is still suffering from the bureaucracy that grew out of the New Deal and the Democratic party "would do well to clean it out of Washington and make for economy. This country belongs to the people and not to a few who sit in Washington and tell us what to do. Bureaucracy has provided the Republicans with an issue — the only one they have.

Bromfield predicted that within 15 or 20 years it will be difficult to tell the governments of the United States and Russia apart. "We must go forward and the only way to go now is to the left," he added.

At the opening session yesterday afternoon the federation listened to the dozens of ways in which women on the home front can play a vital part towards winning the war right in their own homes.

Based on the manifold phases of "Civilian Defense," the program, presented in the form of a panel discussion by prominent Democratic women of the state, emphasized the mobilization of all civilians for war work, the salvage of all waste materials and the production and conservation of food for victory.

Miss Margaret Mahoney, Cuyahoga county member of the House of Representatives and the only woman on the Ohio Civilian Defense Council, sounded the key note of the panel discussion when she said, "Nothing but an all-out effort will win the war."

"This war is being fought by whole populations," Miss Mahoney said, "and whole populations are the victims."

She called upon the women to take their places in all phases of civilian defense such as the first aid and Nurses' Aid corps, the blood donor service and air raid wardens auxiliary and to convert every dollar they can into defense stamps and bonds to help build planes, tanks and ships.

"It has been said that one American boy can take care of 20 Japs," said Miss Mahoney, "but to do it he must have the equipment."

The food for victory program was strongly emphasized by Mrs. Beryl B. White of Greenville, member of the state speakers' bureau and prominent AAA worker.

"Modern warfare means a battle for materials but there's no substitute been found for food," Mrs. White said. "Either you have it or you don't have it."

Urging food conservation Mrs. White said "There is enough sugar washed out of the bottom of American coffee cups a year to supply 10,000,000 Chinese people for that period."

She said "it is up to the American farmer to produce the food to win the war," and added that "it's up to the women to buy wisely and feed their families the same way."

Prior to the panel discussion Mrs. Lena Siferd, the state president, spoke in behalf of the "Adopt a Soldier" program sponsored by the federation.

Mrs. Margaret Secrist of Cleveland, state chairman of "The Democratic Digest," federation publication called upon several members to speak concerning the information value of the Digest. Mrs. Eva Kanzey of Cleveland, Mrs. Marie Fry and Mrs. Sarah Hecker, state chairman of the finance committee, and Mrs. Bernice Pyke of Cleveland, former national committeewoman, responded.

Anderson Ranch dam, to be built by Bureau of Reclamation in Idaho, will be the highest earth-filled dam in the world, 330 feet.

MALNUTRITION IMPERILS AXIS

Expert Declares Reduction in Food Will Hit Morale of Japs and Nazis.

(By United Press)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Dr. Seale Harris, who investigated nutritional deficiencies of the Central Powers for the Paris Peace Conference in 1919, believes that malnutrition will help bring defeat to the Axis powers within two years.

The current issue of the magazine Modern Medicine quotes Dr. Harris as saying: "Even a slight reduction in the food now available to Japan and the other Axis nations will result in a rapid reduction of morale. Within two years the morale of their soldiers is certain to be broken."

Dr. Harris, a member of the University of Alabama medical staff, says an allied blockade of Japanese coastal waters would cut off their principal source of proteins—fish.

"The people of Japan subsist on a state of nutrition bordering on beriberi and other deficiencies," he writes. "As the war progresses, it is questionable if even their meager diet can be maintained.

"The nutritional deficiencies among people of central Europe were more pronounced before the outbreak of the present war than they were before the start of the first World war in 1914. The spread of deficiency diseases also is more rapid now."

Mrs. Rella Turner and son, Fred, of Salem were callers in the Charles Scott home recently.

Coast Guard Pictures — Opportunities awaiting young men in the United States coast guard service will be shown in sound pictures at next Tuesday's meeting of the Rotary club, to be held at 11:45 a. m. at the Mansfield-Leland hotel with Paul R. Tappan as program chairman.

Reports Tire Theft—Fred Willis, 56 Mansfield avenue, reported to police last night that an automobile tire and wheel had been stolen from the rear compartment of his car while it was parked on Mansfield avenue near his home.

Fine Warren Driver — Richard Bryant, 22, Warren, was fined $25 and costs this morning in municipal court after pleading guilty to a charge of unsafe operation of an automobile. Bryant was arrested Thursday in connection with an accident on U. S. route 30-S in which two women suffered slight injuries.

THIRD REQUEST

U. S. Sends City New Appeal On Bond Investments.

The city of Mansfield received its third request today from the U. S. treasury department for investment of city funds in short-time government securities but so far none of the requests have been answered.

The latest communication from the treasury department informed the city that $250,000,000 worth of treasury notes scheduled to mature in 91 days were being offered for sale. Deadline on the purchase of the notes is Monday.

The first offer two months ago gave rise to the proposal by Councilman Fred Miller that a city investment board be created to invest the city's "idle monies" in government securities. City council's finance committee has been studying the proposal for seven weeks.

Timely Announcements

Dr. R. E. Frush will be absent from office from May 14th to May 25th. (S-16)

THEATERS

Hilarious Farce.

The knock-down drag-out hilarity of the old Keystone comedies looked like child's play compared to the farcical situations in Bob Hope's current laugh-getter, "My Favorite Blonde," at the Ohio. Hope and Madeleine Carrol break up everything in sight in one of the battle-scenes and they show Nazi spies that one of the most effective weapons against them is ridicule. Hope plays a vaudevillian with a performing penguin as a partner and Miss Carroll is cast as a British secret agent who involves the actor.

* * *

Crime Comedy.

Crooks turn straight in "Larceny, Inc., Edward G. Robinson's starring vehicle at the Madison. Drama is blended with humor as Robinson, in the role of an ex-convict, rents a small leather goods business in order to tunnel a passageway to an adjoining bank that he eventually expects to rob. His plans for crime are frustrated by his becoming too interested in the business to think about it. Broderick Crawford and Jane Wyman are in the cast. "Blondie's Blessed Event," with Penny Singleton is the co-feature.

* * *

Comedy Drama.

"Skylarks," a gay comedy drama with Claudette Colbert, Brian Aherne and Ray Milland is the attraction at the Ritz. Wallace Beery and Marjorie Main are teamed in "The Bugle Sounds," the second picture.

* * *

Circus Cartoon.

Walt Disney's delightful circus cartoon, "Dumbo," full-length Technicolor feature at the Park, introduces the voices of several popular screen stars including Cliff Edwards, Herman Bing and Verna Felton of Jack Benny's programs. "Dumbo," the little elephant with the sail-like ears, who gives the picture its title doesn't talk at all. The musical setting includes half-a-dozen hits topped by "Pink Elephants." Edmund Lowe has the lead in "Klondike Fury," the Park attraction.

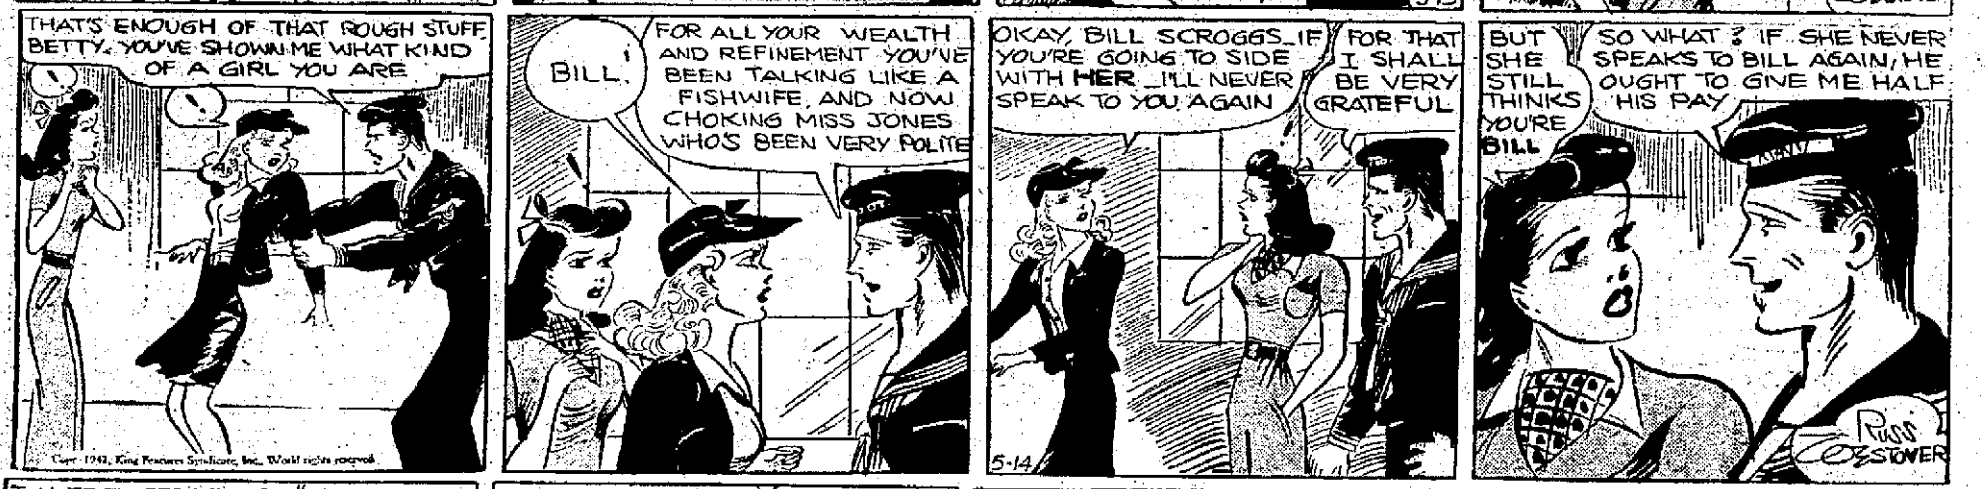
TILLIE THE TOILER

MARTY, I'VE QUIT. THERE'S GOING TO BE A WOMAN MANAGER
WELL, PRETEND YOU HAVEN'T QUIT. BETTY WILL TRY TO GET YOUR GOAT. BE POLITE AND YOU'LL GET HERS
FIX MY WINDSHIELD WIPER. I'M IN A HURRY
I'M AFRAID YOU'LL HAVE TO WAIT. THERE ARE OTHER CARS AHEAD OF YOU
5-11
YES? WELL, I THINK I'LL HAVE YOU FIRED
OH, NO, YOU WON'T. YOU CAN'T GET ME FIRED
OH, I CAN'T, CAN'T I?
HEH. HEH
WELL, SHE COULD GET YOU FIRED, BUT SHE'D HAVE TO HAVE YOU RE-HIRED FIRST
RUSS COLSTOVER
PODGE ISN'T IN THE OFFICE, SO SHE'LL COME RIGHT BACK. I'VE DISCONNECTED THIS WIRE, SO THE CAR WON'T START. NOW BE POLITE AT ALL COSTS
ALL RIGHT. I'LL TRY
I'LL TALK TO MR. PODGE LATER. YOU'LL SEE THAT I CAN GET YOU FIRED
SHE STILL DOESN'T UNDERSTAND THAT I CAN'T BE FIRED, BECAUSE I'VE ALREADY QUIT
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
WHAT'S THIS? YOU FIXED THIS CAR, SO IT WON'T START, YOU SABOTEUR, YOU!
YOU ARE MISTAKEN, I ASSURE YOU
5-12
MY UNCLE IS THE NEW OWNER OF THIS GARAGE, HE'LL FIRE YOU
OH, NO. EVEN YOUR UNCLE CAN'T FIRE ME
HEH-HEH IF WE HAD A DICTATOR EVEN HE COULDN'T
I DIDN'T SABOTAGE YOUR CAR. I DIDN'T EVEN TOUCH IT. I ASSURE YOU
I KNOW YOU DID. YOU WERE THE ONLY ONE THERE
BUT I GIVE YOU MY WORD
YOUR WORD. WHAT GOOD IS YOUR WORD, YOU CHEAP LITTLE WORKING-GIRL
I'M PROUD TO BE A WORKING-GIRL
YEAH? AND I SUPPOSE YOU'RE PROUD TO BE TRYING TO UNDERMINE ME WITH BILL—YOU. YOU—YOU—
5-13
UGH! MARTY TOLD ME TO BE POLITE. GOSH! HOW CAN I BE ANYTHING ELSE, WHEN I'M CHOKED SPEECHLESS?
RUSS COLSTOVER



THAT'S ENOUGH OF THAT ROUGH STUFF, BETTY. YOU'VE SHOWN ME WHAT KIND OF A GIRL YOU ARE BILL!
FOR ALL YOUR WEALTH AND REFINEMENT YOU'VE BEEN TALKING LIKE A FISHWIFE, AND NOW CHOKING MISS JONES WHO'S BEEN VERY POLITE
OKAY, BILL SCROGGS. IF YOU'RE GOING TO SIDE WITH HER, I'LL NEVER SPEAK TO YOU AGAIN
FOR THAT I SHALL BE VERY GRATEFUL
BUT SHE STILL THINKS YOU'RE BILL
SO WHAT? IF SHE NEVER SPEAKS TO BILL AGAIN, HE OUGHT TO GIVE ME HALF HIS PAY
RUSS COLSTOVER

I HATE TO SEE YOU GO, MARTY, BOY, YOU SURE SHOWED BETTY UP FOR WHAT SHE IS.
YEP, SHE WON'T BE PURSUING BILL ANY MORE NOW
GOOD GRIEF, LOCAL BOYS IN THE SERVICE! HERE'S YOUR PICTURE AND BILL'S OF COURSE, HE'S IN HIS ARMY UNIFORM AND I'M IN MY SAILOR TOGS GOSH!
NOW BETTY WILL KNOW YOU WERE PRETENDING TO BE BILL
I'LL SAY SHE WILL. THAT TRAIN CAN'T LEAVE TOO SOON
ALL ABOARD
5-15
WELL, S'LONG, MARTY
G'BYE, TILLIE. I'M OFF FOR THE COMPARATIVE SAFETY OF THE BATTLE ZONES
RUSS COLSTOVER
IT'S ALL RIGHT. THE BOSS SAID IF YOU CAME BACK, I SHOULD HIRE YOU
WONDERFUL. FAREWELL TO MECHANICAL WORK FOREVER
5-16
GOSH, WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THIS TYPEWRITER?
OH, THAT MISS PHILLIPS WE HIRED LET IT DROP ONE DAY
THIS ADDING-MACHINE IS JAMMED
THE BOSS' RADIO WON'T WORK
I WONDER IF A MEMORY EXPERT COULD TEACH ME TO FORGET HOW TO FIX THINGS
RUSS COLSTOVER

TOOTS AND CASPER

CASPER, IT WASN'T FAIR OF YOUR BOSS'S DAUGHTER TO STRING MY SON, OSCAR, ALONG, AND THEN MARRY SOMEONE ELSE.
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
SHE BROKE OSCAR'S SPIRIT! HE FEELS CRUSHED! SHE WAS AN IDEAL GIRL.... PRETTY AND VERY RICH!
I FEEL SAD ABOUT IT, TOO!
I DON'T BLAME YOU, COL. HOOFER -- OSCAR WANTED HER FOR HIS WIFE, BUT YOU WANTED HER FOR A MEAL TICKET!
JIMMY MURPHY
CASPER, MY SON FEELS HUMILIATED AT BEING JILTED BY JANICE.
I'M OFF OF WOMEN FOR LIFE, CASPER!
NO OTHER GAL WILL EVER GET THE CHANCE TO TURN ME DOWN! I'M THROUGH WITH ALL DAMES.
BOY, WHAT A CUTE NUMBER THAT GIRL IS! -- I WISH SOMEBODY WOULD INTRODUCE ME.
NOW REMEMBER, OSCAR, YOU'RE SUPPOSED TO BE A WOMAN-HATER!
JIMMY MURPHY
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
YESSIR, SHE'S A CUTE JANE! I WISH THAT I KNEW HER.
CAREFUL, OSCAR, SHE'S MARRIED AND TO A BIG HUSKY, TOO.
Copr. 1942 King Features Syndicate, Inc. World rights reserved.
HECK, EVERYTIME I SEE A CUTIE I COULD FALL FOR, SHE'S MARRIED! NOW I AM THROUGH WITH WOMEN!
JIMMY MURPHY
SAY, THERE'S ANOTHER DOLL AND SHE'S EVEN NICER!
-OSCAR, I CAN SEE THAT YOU'RE SURE THROUGH WITH WOMEN.
TOOTS, THAT HOOFER BOY IS STUCK ON EVERY GIRL HE SEES! HE REMINDS ME A LOT OF MARGY LOU PIPPIN!
OSCAR, WHEN I GAVE A PARTY FOR MARGY SHE ASKED ME TO LEAVE GIRLS OUT OF IT AND INVITE ONLY BOYS.
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
THAT'S A HUNCH, DAD! WHEN YOU GIVE THAT PARTY FOR ME LEAVE OUT ALL THE FELLOWS AND INVITE ONLY GIRLS.
JIMMY MURPHY
CASPER, MY SON, OSCAR, HAS GONE!
GONE WHERE, COLONEL HOOFER?
TO JOIN THE ARMY! HE WENT NORTH TO ENLIST IN THE SAME COMPANY, AS SOME OF HIS BUDDIES
GOOD FOR HIM!
JIMMY MURPHY
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
HE'LL MAKE A GOOD FIGHTER! IT'S BORN IN HIM! HE GETS IT FROM SOPHIE --- AND SHE'S A WILD-CAT! I DON'T KNOW HOW I'VE SURVIVED ALL THESE YEARS WITH HER.
WERE YOU EVER IN A WAR, COLONEL HOOFER?
A WAR? CASPER, I'VE BEEN MARRIED TO SOPHIE FOR 36 YEARS, YOU KNOW.
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
BY THE WAY, HOW'D YOU EVER GET THE TITLE OF "COLONEL"?
I PICKED IT OUT, MYSELF! I SIMPLY STARTED CALLIN' MYSELF, "COLONEL" HOOFER, AND THE NAME STUCK!
WHY DIDN'T YOU NAME YOURSELF "GENERAL" HOOFER OR "ADMIRAL" HOOFER?
CASPER, I WANTED TO LEAVE ROOM FOR A PROMOTION LATER ON, BUT I NEVER GOT AROUND TO THAT!

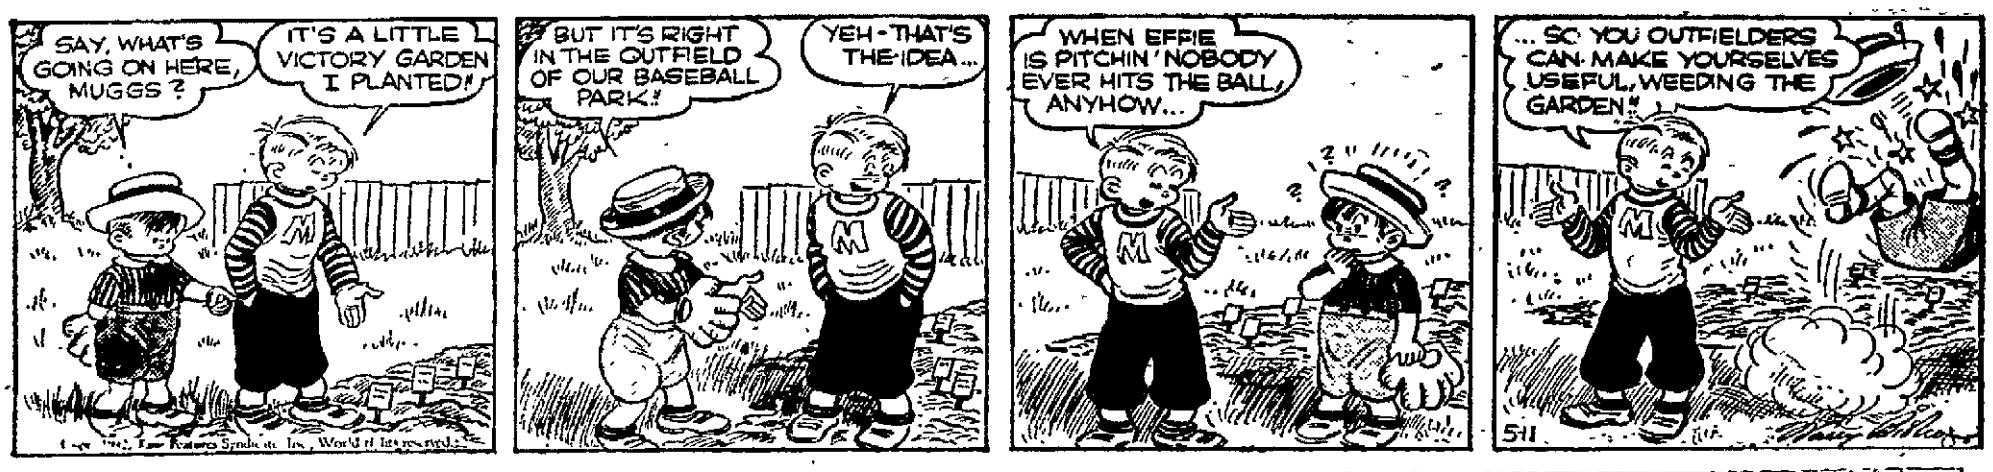
MUGGS McGINNIS



SAY, WHAT'S GOING ON HERE, MUGGS?
IT'S A LITTLE VICTORY GARDEN I PLANTED!
BUT IT'S RIGHT IN THE OUTFIELD OF OUR BASEBALL PARK!
YEH - THAT'S THE IDEA...
WHEN EFFIE IS PITCHIN' NOBODY EVER HITS THE BALL, ANYHOW...
... SO YOU OUTFIELDERS CAN MAKE YOURSELVES USEFUL, WEEDING THE GARDEN!
5-11
I WANT SOME FLOWERS, MR. PARKER! HAVE YA GOT SOMETHIN' NICE?
SURE THING!
HOW MUCH ARE THE ROSES?
OH--VARIOUS PRICES! I'LL LET YOU SEE THEM!!
THESE ARE $2 A DOZEN! THEY'LL LAST A WHOLE WEEK!
NIX - THAT WOULD BE A WASTE OF MONEY -- SOMETHING CHEAPER WILL DO...
THEY'RE FOR MY TEACHER, AND IT'LL ONLY TAKE HER A DAY TO MARK THE EXAMINATION PAPERS!
5-12
I THOUGHT YA WERE GOIN' TO GIVE THAT APPLE TO TEACHER, SKEETER?
SHE WOULDN'T TAKE IT, BECAUSE IT'S WORMY!
YOU SHOULD HAVE BEEN MORE CAREFUL THAN TO GIVE HER A BAD APPLE!
I KNEW IT WAS BAD..
...BUT TAKE A LOOK AT THE MARKS ON MY REPORT CARD --- ARITHMETIC - 30%; SPELLING 40%; DEPORTMENT 35%!
5-13
IF TEACHER EXPECTS ME TO GIVE HER GOOD APPLES, SHE'LL HAVE TO GIVE ME GOOD MARKS!!
WHAT ARE YA DOIN' WITH THE SHEETS, PEE-WEE?
I'M MAKIN' A TENT! I'M GONNA SLEEP IN IT TONIGHT! HOW ABOUT JOININ' ME?
GEE! I WISH I COULD! BUT SISTER WOULD NEVER LET ME SLEEP IN A TENT!
SHE MIGHT LET YA SLEEP IN THIS ONE...
...WHEN YA TELL HER THAT I BORROWED THE SHEETS FROM HER CLOTHESLINE!
5-14
HEY! AREN'T YA GOIN' T' PLAY BALL TODAY, MUGGS?
NO! I WANT TO GET THE LAWN MOWED!
BUT YA CAN FINISH IT AFTER THE GAME!
NIX! I WANT TO GET IT DONE WHILE WE'VE STILL GOT A LAWN-MOWER!
YA KNOW HOW INTERESTED GRANDPA IS IN THE SCRAP METAL CAMPAIGN...
IF HE EVER SET EYES ON THE MOWER, I'LL HAVE TO MANICURE THE LAWN BY HAND!!
5-15
SO YOU WERE ARGUIN' WITH "SLUGGER" MITCHELL AGAIN?
THERE WASN'T ANY ARGUMENT-- HE DID THIS TO ALL THE KIDS!
OH! JUST TRYIN' TO BE FRIENDLY, WAS HE?
THAT'S IT! HE SAID IF WE GOT USED TO GOIN' AROUND LIKE THIS NOW...
... WE'LL ALL FEEL RIGHT AT HOME DURIN' THE BLACKOUTS!

SAVE YOUR "BUTS", EXCUSES AND ALIBIS - YOU'RE BUILDING INSPECTOR - I TOLD YOU I WANTED YOU TO FIND SOMETHING WRONG AT OLD ORPHAN OLIVER'S DUMP!!
BUT-
VOTE FOR
OLIVER CALLS IT HIS PRIVATE RESIDENCE, BUT I KNOW IT'S JUST THE OLD SUGAR FACTORY THAT WAS ALMOST DESTROYED BY FIRE -
I DID MY BEST - SPENT A WEEK AT HIS PLACE - IT'S FIREPROOF, CLEAN, SANITARY -
DARRELL McCLURE
ALL RIGHT, ALL RIGHT! BUT OLD OLIVER IS TOO POPULAR TO SUIT ME - HE CLAIMS HE IS NOT INTERESTED IN POLITICS, BUT THAT'S A STALL - IF OLIVER GETS CONTROL OF ENOUGH VOTES - HE COULD SPOIL EVERYTHING FOR ALL OF US!
GLORYOSKY, ZERO, MR. OLIVER LOOKS AWFUL HAPPY, SO I GUESS THAT SNOOPY BUILDING INSPECTOR WASN'T ABLE TO FIND ANYTHING WRONG, AN' THAT MAKES ME FEEL GLAD ALL OVER
MY GOODNESS - IT'S AN AWFUL HOT DAY
I BET MY FARM WAS THE HOTTEST OF ALL
G'WAN, IT WASN'T HOTTER'N MY FARM - IT COULDN'T BE!
LOOK, MY NECK IS ALL SUNBURNED
HA, HA - THAT WON'T HURT YOU - I'VE GOT BLISTERS TOO
GEE, I'M ALL SUNBURNED AN' BLISTERED ON MY HANDS TOO
BUT I DON'T CARE - ON OUR VICTORY FARMS WE'RE HELPING OUR COUNTRY WIN THE WAR - SO, I GUESS SUNBURN AN' BLISTERS ARE JUST LIKE DECORATIONS AN' MEDALS SOLDIERS GET AFTER A BATTLE
HA, HA - I'M THE BRAVEST SOLDIER IN VICTORY FARM ARMY - I GOT RED, SUNBURNED DECORATIONS 'ROUND MY NECK AND TWO HANDFULS OF MEDALS
YOU'D BETTER HURRY AN' FINISH THAT STORY, ANNIE - THE "LIGHTS-OUT" BELL WILL RING IN A FEW MINUTES
THIS ISN'T A STORY - IT'S THE HISTORY OF OUR COUNTRY - AN' YOU CAN'T FINISH THE HISTORY OF A COUNTRY, 'CAUSE HISTORY KEEPS GOIN' ON ALL THE TIME
HISTORY OF THE UNITED
I JUST LOVE TO READ THE HISTORY OF OUR COUNTRY - 'BOUT ALL THE FOLKS WHO FOUGHT FOR LIBERTY AN' JUSTICE - SOMETIMES THEY HAD TO STARVE AN' SUFFER, BUT THEY WERE TERRIBLE BRAVE -
AN', WHEN YOU READ 'BOUT ALL THE FOLKS WHO STRUGGLED AN' DIED FOR FREEDOM, IT MAKES YOU FEEL AWFUL PROUD YOU WEREN'T BORN IN SOME OTHER COUNTRY WHERE FOLKS WERE AFRAID TO FIGHT FOR LIBERTY HISTORY
DARRELL McCLURE
S-S-S-SH, ZERO - BE TERRIBLE QUIET OR WE'LL WAKE EVERYBODY UP
GEE, ISN'T IT GRAND TO GET UP EARLY AN' SEE ANOTHER NEW DAY JUST ARRIVING? JUST LIKE WATCHING A TRAIN COMING INTO A STATION
EVERYTHING'S SO QUIET AN' PEACEFUL - THE DEW DROPS SHINE ON THE TREES AN' FLOWERS JUST LIKE DIAMONDS IN A JEWELRY STORE
I NEVER SAW SO MANY PRETTY COLORS - GOLD AN' SILVER, PINK AN' BLUE AN' ORANGE ALL OVER THE SKY - LOOKS LIKE MOTHER NATURE WAS GONNA SEW 'EM ALL TOGETHER AN' MAKE A LOVELY RAINBOW OR A SWELL CRAZY QUILT
DARRELL McCLURE
HA, HA, HA, HA - THIS IS THE FINNIEST GLASS TO LOOK THROUGH IN THE WHOLE WORLD
HA, HA
IS IT A LOOKING-GLASS?
NO - A LOOKING-GLASS JUST SHOWS HOW YOU ARE - THIS MAGNIFYING GLASS SHOWS YOU HOW YOU AREN'T. IF YOU LOOK AT A LITTLE KITTEN THROUGH THIS GLASS, IT CHANGES THE KITTEN INTO A GREAT BIG TIGER
GEE, IT MAKES THE PENNY LOOK AS BIG AS A DOLLAR
YEAH - BUT NO MATTER HOW BIG IT LOOKS THROUGH THAT CRAZY GLASS, IT'LL ONLY BUY ONE LOLLIPOP
THAT'S WHAT MAKES THE GLASS SO WONDERFUL - LOOKING AT THE LOLLIPOP THROUGH THE GLASS MAKES THE LOLLIPOP LOOK LIKE A GREAT, BIG, APPLE PIE STUCK ON THE END OF A BROOM-HANDLE
DARRELL McCLURE
I DON'T SEE WHY MR. OLIVER TRADED OUR NICE, OLD AUTOMOBILE FOR THEM TWO UGLY, OLD MULES - ??
I'D RATHER HAVE TWO LITTLE PONIES
MR. OLIVER GOT THE MULES ON ACCOUNT OF THE WAR - 'CAUSE THEY DON'T NEED ANY RUBBER TIRES OR GASOLINE
MR. OLIVER KNOWS THE ARMY NEEDS STEEL, OIL, TIRES, GASOLINE AN' -
AN' IT DON'T COST NOTHIN' TO KEEP A MULE - HE RUNS ON GRASS AN' WATER AN' IF HE NEEDS AIR, HE JUST OPENS HIS MOUTH

ETTA KETT

BYE ALL.
DONT FORGET. NEXT CLUB MEETING AT MY HOUSE
DONT YOU THINK ITS KEEN? I MEAN ALL THE GIRLS GETTING TOGETHER AND SWEARING TO BE TRUE TO THEIR FIGHTING SWEETHEARTS
I'M GLAD YOU'RE ELECTED CLUB PRESIDENT
IMAGINE YOU RATIONING YOURSELF TO ONE BOY. DO YOU LOVE DAVEY
I HAVENT DATED SINCE HE LEFT--THAT'S TWO WEEKS--SO WHAT DO YOU THINK.
OH, OH! LOOK AT THE SWELL CAR IN FRONT OF YOUR HOUSE. HERE GOES YOUR RECORD
I NEVER SAW THAT ONE BEFORE.
Paul Robinson
MY DAUGHTER ORGANIZED A CLUB OF GIRLS WITH SWEETHEARTS IN THE SERVICE. DATES ARE OUT FOR THE DURATION.
NO HARM IN TRYING.
HI! GUESS WHAT! THEY ELECTED ME CLUB PRESIDENT.
HOW NICE! ETTA, THIS IS HAYWARD WINTON! I WAS JUST TELLING HIM ABOUT "HEARTS IN SERVICE"
SWELL IDEA
NEW CLUBS ARE SPRINGING UP ALL OVER THE COUNTRY.
GREAT GOING! WHO ARE YOU CARRYING A TORCH FOR: DAVEY?
UM-HMM! KNOW HIM?
DO I? WE'VE BEEN BUDDIES, JUST LIKE THAT--FOR YEARS!
SORRY - A DANCE DATE IS OUT. DAVEY IS IN THE SERVICE AND I'M TRUE TO HIM!
DONT BE A DROOP -
LOOK." HE KNOWS YOU GET LONESOME, PARKED IN EVERY NIGHT SO HE ASKED ME TO CONVOY YOU AROUND -- I'M HIS BUDDY HE CAN TRUST ME, SEE?
NO SOAP! I'M PRESIDENT OF THE "HEARTS IN SERVICE" CLUB, AND IT'S UP TO ME TO SET A GOOD EXAMPLE!
BUT I'M NOT TRYIN' TO CUT IN ON DAVEY. HE'LL BE THERE." HE ASKED ME TO BRING YOU DOWN."
WHY DIDN'T YOU SAY SO? THAT MAKES IT ALL RIGHT."
RIGHT AS RAIN."
AREN'T YOU BREAKING THE RULES OF YOUR CLUB I MEAN, LETTING YOUNG WINTON TAKE YOU TO THE DANCE?
IT'S NOT A DATE! HE'S A FRIEND OF DAVEY'S BESIDES, DAVEY WILL BE THERE!
SAY, YOU LOOK SWELL! MIND IF I GO INTO A SKID OVER YOU?
KEEP YOUR CHAINS ON."
LIKE THE MOON? I ORDERED IT SPECIAL FOR TONIGHT!
WASN'T THAT YOUNG HAYWARD WINTON, WHO TOOK ETTA TO THE DANCE? FUNNY, HE'S NOT IN THE SERVICE OR SOMETHING!
HE'S SUCH A PLAY-BOY! I WONDER IF HE'S UP TO SOME TRICK --OR MAYBE I'M TOO SUSPICIOUS!
I THOUGHT YOU SAID DAVEY WOULD BE HERE?
GIVE HIM TIME, DATE BAIT. IT'S A LONG WAY FROM THE FORT!
I GET IT." IT'S A TRICK." YOU JUST TOLD ME HE WAS COMING TO THE DANCE SO I'D COME WITH YOU!
ANY-THINGS FAIR IN LOVE AND WAR!
AW! DONT BE SORE."
IF ANY OF THE GIRLS SEE ME HERE, THEY'LL THINK I'VE DATED YOU AND BROKEN MY CLUB PLEDGE TO BE TRUE TO THE BOYS IN SERVICE!
TAKE ME HOME!
OKAY, CUPCAKE! WITH THIS MOON IT'LL BE A PLEASURE
THANKS FOR THE BUGGYRIDE HOME!
AW, LISTEN - DATEBAIT.
ISN'T THAT ETTA KETT AND HAY WINTON?
DONT COME IN! GOODNIGHT!
I KNOW IT WAS A MANGY TRICK TELLING YOU DAVEY WOULD BE AT THE DANCE I KNEW YOU WOULDN'T GO WITH ME, IF I DIDN'T COOK UP A STORY!
YOU OUGHT TO BE ASHAMED TRYING TO CUT IN -- WHILE HE'S AWAY FIGHTING! -- AND YOU PRETEND TO BE HIS FRIEND!
HECK!
AW, I SAID I'M SORRY, DIDN'T I?
A FINE PRESIDENT OF THE "HEARTS IN SERVICE" CLUB SHE MAKES!
HMM! SO SHE'S STEPPING OUT! AND SHE PLEDGED TO BE TRUE TO DAVE! I KNEW SHE COULDN'T!
